The answer of Humphrey Drawing advise of Miles Hunt does Deft

The bill of Richard Parker Compld

This deft saving & reserving to himself all manner of advantage & benefit of exception that may be had or taken to the misrepresentation and untruths in the S^d bill contained, for answer thereto, or to so much thereof as he is advised is material, or essential to be answered, answereth & saith — That true it is that a suit was instituted in the C^t Court of St^{on} on a bond for the sum of £ as stated in the S^d bill, and judgment obtained thereon as by the records will fully appear — The deft doth not believe that Miles Hunt was indebted to the Compld the sum of £23.

Shillings as stated in the bill, nor indeed in any other sum of money but is inclined to believe the very reverse in addition to the one now contested — for the following reasons, to wit — The deft had brought suit against Miles Hunt in his life time in St^{on} C^t on a bond for the sum of £ That pending the suit, the S^d Miles came to this deft's house and offered the bond on which the afo^d judg^t against Parker was founded in part payment, alledging at the same time that the S^d Parker was indebted to him in the further sum of between twenty & thirty pounds on acc^t of his mother's estate to whom the S^d Parker was exec^r, or adm^r, but the deft declined trading for these demands until he could have an opportunity of seeing Mr Parker which he had in a little time after wh^{ch}

Court — That on mentioning the subject to the S^r Parker he informed this debt that with respect to the ~~20~~ 200 pounds on acc of Hunt's mother's estate he would not pay it because it was sold in paper money time & had come to nothing — but that Hunt had a small bond of his which if the debt would trade for, he would pay it off — which is the same bond by Parker now disputed — because the ~~debt~~ S^r miles died in a very little time after and the debt expressly charges that he never heard, nor doth he believe there was any other bond but the one before mentioned —

The debt further saith as he is informed, & verily believes that the afo^d bond was not given for negotiation as in the bill stated, but hopes that the erroneous statement has not originated from ^{intentional} falsity but from sup^rannuation & breach of recollection

This debt requests to be dismissed from this hon^{ble} Court with his proper costs & charges in this behalf most wrongfully sustained & do

J^r Hill for the Debt.
