E. FRANK STORY
ATTORNEY AT LAW
COURTLAND, VIRGINIA

TO THE HONORABLE ROBERT R. PRENTIS, JUDGE OF THE CIRCUIT COURT OF SOUTHAMPTON COUNTY, VIRGINIA:

Humbly complaining, your complainant, E. L. Marks, surviving partner of R. S. Pope, deceased, and E. L. Marks, late partners, trading as E. L. Marks & Company, and the said E. L. Marks in his individual right, showeth unto the Court the following cause of complaint:

That for several years prior to the death of R. S. Pope, which occured on the 19th day of March 1902, your said complainant, and the said R. S. Pope were engaged in the mercantile business at Pope, Southampton County, Virginia, and that since the death of the said Pope, your complainant has continued the said mercantile business, at the place aforesaid; that one S. R. Westbrook approached your said complainant and requested him to extend him, the said S. R. Westbrook, a line of credit for goods, wares and merchandise, and your said complainant promised and did extend to the said S. R. Westbrook, such credit with the understanding that the latter should be prompt and punctual in his payments for the merchandise, etc. thus purchased; that the said S. R. Westbrook proceeded to exercise the privilege extended him by your said complainant, and purchased from him great quantities of goods, wares and merchandise, as aforesaid, and contrary to the original understanding between him and your said complainant, he did not pay for the said merchandise, etc. promptly, but on the contrary permitted his accounts to lapse from time to time, showing considerable balance due thereon; that your said complainant approached the said S. R. Westbrook and requested him to make some arrangement looking to the settlement of his indebtedness, the amount of which is fully shown by an itemized account herewith filed, marked

" Exhibit A", and prayed to be read as a part of this bill; showing that a balance of the indebtedness due by the said S. R. Westbrook to the concern existing prior to the death of R. S. Pope, to be Five Hundred and Thirty-Five & 77/100 ($535.77) Dollars, and that due to your said complainant, E. L. Marks individually, for the goods, wares and merchandise furnished as therein shown since the death of the said R. S. Pope, to be Three Hundred and Twenty-Nine & 1 /100 ($329.12) Dollars; that when your said complainant thus approached the said debtor, S. R. Westbrook, and requested a settlement of these matters, the said Westbrook informed your complainant that he, at that time, had in his possession belonging to him, numbers of bales of cotton, which he then and there promised to deliver to your said complainant as security for such indebtedness as he then owed, or might thereafter owe, for the goods, wares and merchandise purchased and to be purchased as aforesaid; that the said S. R. Westbrook did later deliver to your said complainant, nine bales of cotton, with a distinct understanding that they were placed with your said complainant as security for his indebtedness, and that the same should be held by your said complainant until a more satisfactory price might be realized thereon than could have been obtained at that time, it being then and there understood that the said cotton should be disposed of by mutual consent of both parties during the coming winter, (namely, the winter of 190___).

Your complainant further states that he has at all times been willing that the said cotton be sold and has repeatedly requested the said S. R. Westbrook to sell the said cotton, and has offered from time to time to buy the said cotton and allow him the highest market price therefor, but notwithstanding this fact, and in direct violation of the agreement with your said complainant, made and entered into and in fraud of your complainant's rights by the said defendant, the said S. R. Westbrook has stoutly at all times and continously refused to permit the said cotton to be sold, or allow your said complainant to purchase same, and that the said cotton, owing to the refusal of the said S. R. Westbrook, to carry out his original agreement, is yet on the premises of, and in possession of your said complainant, the holding of which has been of great inconvenience and loss to your said complainant, both because of the fact that he has been necessarily compelled to lie out of the funds he should have received from the sale of the said cotton on account of the said Westbrook's indebtedness as agreed on, and because of the storage room which the said cotton has occupied.

In tender consideration whereof, and for as much as your complainant is without remedy, save in a court of equity, where such matters are alone and properly cognizable, he prays that the said S. R. Westbrook may be made a party defendant to this bill, and required to answer same, though answer under oath is hereby expressly waived; that a receiver may be appointed by the Court to take charge of the said cotton, and sell the same, applying the proceeds thereof to the payment of the indebtedness due by the said S. R. Westbrook, and that a judgment may be entered against the said S. R. Westbrook, for so much of the said indebtedness as may remain unpaid after the application of the funds, as aforesaid; that all necessary orders and decrees may be entered, accounts taken, and inquiries directed, as may be necessary in the premises; and that your complainant may have all such further and other, and general relief in the premises as the nature of his case may require, or to equity shall seem meet.

And your complainant will ever pray, etc.

VS.

WESTBROOK.

Answer.

To the Honorable Robert R. Prentis, Judge of the said Court:

The answer of S. R. Westbrook to a bill in equity filed against him in the Circuit Court of Southampton County, Virginia, by E. L. Marks, surviving partner of R. S. Pope, deceased, and E. L. Marks late partners, trading as E. L. Marks and Company, and the said E. L. Marks in his individual right.

This respondent saving and reserving to himself the right and benefit of all objections and exceptions which may be had or taken to the many errors, uncertainties and insufficienties in said bill contained for answer thereto or to so much thereof as he is advised it is material he should answer, answer and says:

That he admits the purchasing of the goods, wares and merchandise mentioned and described in Exhibit "A" filed with the bill of complainants, but says that the same were not purchased in the manner and form and under the conditions alleged in the bill of complainants. Your respondent says that for several years before said E. L. Marks became a partner with R. S. Pope and commenced the business as E. L. Marks and Company, that the said R.S. Pope was individually engaged in the mercantile business, and that yearly the said R. S. Pope and your respondent carried on mutual dealings; your respondent buying merchandise, etc.

from Pope and Pope buying produce, etc. from your respondent. That after such dealing between the said R. S. Pope and this respondent for several years, the said E. L. Marks became a partner of the said R. S. Pope, and your respondent was requested by them to continue his account with them as in the past, and that, without any definite contract save that implied from the purchase of goods to be charged to respondent's account, the plaintiffs and respondent have, for several years, been running with each other mutual accounts.

That the said E. L. Marks and Company are indebted to your respondent in a large sum, to-wit, the sum of _____ at the least, for produce, lumber and other things, as will be seen from an itemized account filed herewith as Exhibit "X" and prayed to be read as a part of this answer.

Your respondent denies the allegation in complainants' bill that this respondent had placed with complainants nine bales of cotton, or any cotton, as a security for any indebtedness due complainants or to become due them. Your respondent says that complainants operated a certain cotton gin, in which for tolls and rewards, they ginned such cotton as was presented for that purpose, that for several years before the existance of the firm of E. L. Marks and Company, and before this respondent had had any business dealings whatever with said E. L. Marks, the said R. S. Pope operated the said gin, and that it was the habit and custom of your respondent to carry his cotton to the gin of said Pope to be ginned, paying him therefor the usual price for same. That when E. L. Marks became a member of the firm under the name of E. L. Marks and Company, your respondent continued to carry his cotton to the said gin for the purpose of having it ginned, paying therefor the usual price,- just as before. Your respondent says that the complainant has in his possession now several bales of cotton, to-wit, nine bales, which was carried to the said complainant to be ginned as had been repeatedly done before as above stated, and that the complainant has received his tolls forgginning the same. That not only was the nine bales, stated by complainant to be now in his possession, carried there to be ginned as aforesaid, but the entire crop made by your respondent was so carried, and the said cotton thus delivered to complainant by your respondent was to be ginned and delivered back to your respondent. This respondent denies that said cotton or any part thereof was placed there as security, and the complainant has unlawfully and wrongfully witheld same from him. Your respondent has made repeated demand upon complainant for said cotton, and has, in order that the cotton might be advantageously sold upon the highest market, made request in writing to complainant to deliver said cotton to commission merchants in Norfolk. All of which requests and demands, however, have been refused, and the complainant has continued to hold and still does hold the cotton without right. Your respondent says that since the cotton has thus been unlawfully witheld from him that the price has been high, and he could and would have sold it at a price greatly in excess of what can now be obtained therefor. That your respondent has been greatly damaged, to-wit, the sum of _____ Dollars. Your respondent is a farmer and the principal resource from which he can pay his debts and obligations during the year, is the crops of cotton which he makes, and it was a great inconvenience and embarrassment to him to thus have his cotton witheld from him and to be thereby hindered and prevented from paying his debts and obligations including any due to the complainants. Respondent says he is ready and willing and has been always ready and willing to pay the complainant every cent he justly owes him, so soon as the complainant shall deliver to him his cotton.

Your respondent prays that if necessary this answer may be treated as a cross bill, that the complainant be required to pay him a proper compensation for the damage done in unlawfully and wrongfully witholding his cotton, that his account against complainant may be allowed as an offset against that of complainant and a judgment awarded him against complainant for such amount as shall be found due your respondent. That complainant be required to surrender and deliver said cotton to your respondent, and that such other relief may be granted your respondent as the nature of his case may require, or to equity shall seem meet.

And now having answered plaintiffs' bill he prays hence to be dismissed, etc.

IN THE)CIRCUIT COURT OF SOUTHAMPTOM COUNTY, VIRGINIA, IN VACATION,
THIS 29th DAY OF MAY 1907.

E. L. Marks & Co.

Vs.

S. R. Westbrook.

This day this cause, which by consent in writing of all parties thereto, has been regularly submitted to the Judge of this court for such decisions and decrees in vacation as might be made in term therein, which writing is made a part of the record in this cause, came on to be heard on the bill of the complainant and the exhibits therewith files, and upon the answer of the defendant and ~~the exhibits therewith filed~~ with guard replication thereto by leave of court this day, and was argued by counsel.

On consideration whereof, ## and by consent of parties, the Court doth adjudge, order and decree that E. Frank Story and John N. Sebrell Jr., be and they are hereby appointed receivers who shall take charge of the cotton now in the possession of the plaintiff belonging to the said defendant, alleged to be about nine bales in number, and proceed to make sale thereof to the best advantage they can, for cash, and deposit the proceeds therefrom in the People's Bank Courtland, Va., ~~payable~~ subject to the order of the Court in this cause. But before the said receivers shall proceed to execute this decree they shall enter into bond, with approved security, before the Clerk of this Court, in the penalty of $1000.— and conditioned for the faithful performance of their duties under this or any other decrees in this cause.

And the said receivers shall report to court.

This day this cause came on to be heard on the papers formerly read, and the report of Receivers E. Frank Story and Jno. N. Sebrell, Jr., reporting sale of cotton for the sum of Five Hundred and Eighty & 23//100 ($580.23) Dollars, which amount they have duly deposited in the People's Bank, of Courtland, Virginia, as directed by former decree in this cause, to which report there is no exception, and was argued by counsel:

On consideration whereof, the Court, approving the said report, doth confirm the same, and by consent of parties ~~and~~ doth adjudge, order and decree, that the said E. Frank Story and Jno. N. Sebrell, Jr., Receivers, as aforesaid, do withdraw from the People's Bank, the said sum of Five Hundred and Eighty & 23/100 ($580.23) Dollars, and pay out of same the cost of this suit, including commissions of said Receivers, and the cost of the execution of the bond by said Receivers; and to E. L. Marks & Company, or his attorney, the sum of Three Hundred and Eighty-Four & 05/100 ($384.05) Dollars, which amount is found to be due them, and the balance pay to S. R. Westbrook, or his attorney.

And the said Receivers will report to Court.
