

and the deed of Trust from the said Martha B. Rockelle to William B. Shanks except as to the slaves, Tom (Gray) and Comfort, are illegal, and without determining the relative rights of the plaintiff and her children under the said will, the said will is admitted with the bill, to the remainder with the estate of James Rockelle after the expiration of the life term of Martha B.
Rockelle) being of opinion that it is proper to set apart for the plaintiff's separate maintenance, free from the marital rights of her husband, all her interest in the property in the hands of receiver Shanks which may remain undisposed of, and being further of opinion that since the executorial transactions of Martha B. Rockelle under the will of her husband James Rockelle are closed and she has abjured the trust for which she holds the property, it is proper the same should be withdrawn from her hands and transferred to another trustee, doth decree and it is hereby adjudged, ordered and decreed with the consent of Martha B. Rockelle by her counsel that the several deeds of conveyance of lands from Martha B. Rockelle to L. D. Edwards and John M. Curley so far as the same import a conveyance from herself and the bill of sale of the slaves Charles Robb and Nancy and Tazewell from Martha B. Rockelle to John M. Curley and the deed of Trust from the said Martha B. Rockelle to William B. Shanks (except as to the slaves Tom (Gray) and Comfort) be vacated and annulled, that the injunction awarded is within the defendant Edwards from proceeding to sell the property ^{held} over under the decree made out by him be made perpetual and he be enjoined from loosing any other execution sued out upon the same judgment upon the said property. And the Court doth confirm the report of receiver Shanks, and doth decree that defendant Curley surrender to him (who is hereby appointed trustee instead of Martha B. Rockelle) the two pieces of land reported by receiver Shanks to be still held by him and the two acres lot in Jerusalem in the proceedings referred to and that the said Shanks receive the same and hold it together with the other property remaining in his hands and apply the proceeds thereof for the maintenance of the plaintiff and John B. Rockelle and James A. Rockelle. And the Court doth enjoin the defendant John Taylor from interfering with the said property or its proceeds or disposing thereof, as well for the interest of the plaintiff during the lifetime of Martha B. Rockelle as for her interest, which may still be undisposed of with remainder, and doth decree the same to her for her maintenance separate and apart from her husband, the said John Taylor.
And the Court doth order that the defendants L. D. Edwards and John M. Curley, each pay one fourth part of the costs of this suit, and that the defendants Sarah Womack, William Edmeston and Richard A. Grimes each one third of the residue of the said costs.
