

Thursday May the 11th 1871.

Present

The Hon. Frederick Douglass.

Thomas Lewis

King and wife

Suff. } Subducing
Suff. }

This day the Court came on to the further heard on the papers formerly read and on the Report of Commissioners already and on the answer of J. J. Williams & W. H. White and Frederick W. Lewis, filed the day before last, and application to back answer and evidence submitted filed and on argument of counsel, the consideration whereof the Court did not finish the Report of Commissioners already to which the exception has been filed, and docket appeal, order and demand. That the bill of the Defendants Williams, White and Lewis be dismissed, and as to all other matters this Court is continued.

Williams and

Lewis

Suff. } Subducing
Suff. }

This day further papers came on to the again heard on the papers formerly read and on the Report of Commissioners White made under an order of the Court in November Term 1870, and the statement made by it and was argued by counsel, the consideration whereof the Court at sitting statement by the basis of facts shown, direct evidence, order and demand, that Frederick Williams, John J. Williams and John J. Williams, should at once and before Williams make the sum of $1000.00 and thereby showing that it was the day of April 1870, and to Williams and wife and Joseph A. Williams each the sum of two hundred (and two dollars and no cents) each account for himself, of the natural form of the 1st 1871.

Douglass

King and wife

Suff. } Subducing
Suff. }

The Court did not give the order of the Court at the time of the Court to require William, White and Frederick Lewis to show that they were the authors and not Frederick Williams, and that they were the authors of the story, which was the story for which a $1000.00 Thomas Edward Lewis was held in consideration that the story was the story of Frederick Williams and Joseph A. Williams for the story and for the story of the story which was for the story and for the story.