his then (meaning Jim) has some and told them in sleep to go and take it out of his pocket and then in sleep is and he did not like to put his hand in any persons pocket and Bob said Jim would not mind it and after they were done eating Eacy said to this nitwip come and keep Bob empty and this nitwip asked her why she did not call Jim up and ask him to eat and she said she had asked him to eat before he lay down and Bob said let him be till he gets up and then he may have something to eat I got I Eacy went to bed and in all ^{half an} hour Bob got up and asked this nitwip to walk and after they had got some distance from the house Bob asked this nitwip if Eacy was anything then she replied she was not nor never would be and Bob asked him why he took so much authority and this nitwip said he took no more than he had leave to do and Eacy then came and asked the prisoner to walk into the house with her and Bob told this nitwip to stay where he was till he came back and after a little time this prisoner Bob came back and asked this nitwip what he had been talking about and this nitwip said certainly you are not drunk and the prisoner said no I am not drunk now but I have been drunk and Eacy came out out again asked Bob and this nitwip to come into the house for she said that Bob's brother was dead and this nitwip asked Bob if he knew that Jim was dead and he said that Eacy told him she went into the house and was looking some chips about the house and said that she went to mend up the fire and struck her foot against Jim's hand and she took it up to lay it on the bench and found it was cold and this nitwip went into the kitchen and Eacy told him the same and this nitwip said if Jim is dead go and tell your master and he said if you will not go and tell of master I will and Eacy said to Bob you might as well go and tell at first as at last I Bob said to Eacy hurry down his head and said that he might go and tell of it and she ended once in behalf of the emend being
