By consent of parties the license granted Roy C. Dick at Spring Town last to keep an ordinary at Dover in this County till 30th April 1868 is transferred to E. Marshall according to law. It appearing to the Court that the said Marshall is a man of good character and will probably keep a house orderly, useful and such as the law requires -

The Commissioners herebefore appointed to let the rebuilding of a new bridge across Adams mill run this day made a report which is reviewed and confirmed by the Court -

The Court consents to allow Roy J. R. L. Bryant the contractors for building a bridge across at Otterway at Danvers, one hundred dollars in addition to the $1000 for which they undertook to build the same -

This day Madison Low who alleges that he is aggrieved by a tax assessed upon him by Ovis Moore Commissioner of the revenue in the first district in this County in the year 1867, for standing a Stallion, whereby the said Madison Low is assessed with a tax of twenty dollars for standing the said Stallion, and thereupon the said Madison Low moved the Court to relieve him from the payment of the said tax so erroneously charged as against him, which motion was defended by W. W. Cobb the attorney for the Commissioner for said County, and the said Ovis Moore the Commissioner who made the assessment was examined as a witness touching the application. And it appearing that application for redress against the erroneous assessment as made on this day for the first time. And it appearing that the said Low owned a Stallion of small value which he kept as Work horse only, that he sometimes allowed the horse to be put to mares for the accommodation of his neighbors, always saying that he made no charge for so doing - that they generally made a present to him of a barrel of corn, but that he never selected any one to pay him any thing, and it was always at their discretion to do so or not. That the said horse was put to only four mares within the last two years. All of which the Court certifies as facts proved upon the application aforesaid. On consideration whereof, and from such facts so proved, the Court is satisfied that the said Madison Low is erroneously charged or assessed with the twenty dollars tax aforesaid: Whereupon it is ordered that the said Madison Low be excused from the payment of the twenty dollars tax so erroneously charged, if not already paid and if paid, that it be refunded to him -
