

he is allowed further to plead, and thereupon he pleaded debts of Superior dignity to which the plaintiff replied generally, and thereupon issue being joined came a Jury to wit: James Mellick, Lewis Morrill, John Barratt, Micajah Holliman, Matthew Calvert, Benjamin Clements, David Jeffries, James Bell, George Blunt, William Moxley and William Blor & John Martin who being elected tried and sworn the truth to speak upon the issues joined returned a verdict in the following words to wit: "We of the Jury find for the plaintiff the debt in the declaration mentioned and assess his damages to one cent. We further find that the defendant hath fully administered the assets of his testator which have come to his hands to be administered. We also find that there are debts of Superior dignity to the plaintiff." Therefore it is considered by the Court that the plaintiff recover against the Defendant the sum of fifty five dollars seventy six $\frac{3}{4}$ cents with legal Interest thereon from the 23^d day of August 1813 till paid the debt in the declaration together with the one cent damages aforesaid assessed and his costs by him about his suit in this behalf expended to be levied of the goods and chattels of the said John Knichlor which may hereafter come to the hands of the defendant to be administered, and which may remain after satisfying all debts of Superior dignity to the plaintiffs claim. And the said defendant in Mercy &c.
