Two paper writings purporting the last will and Testament of Thomas Monell decd. were presented in court one dated the 30th of March 1829 and the other dated the 25th July 1829 were offered for probat. The court after examination of sundry witnesses respecting the said writings are of opinion that the Testator at the time of executing the writing bearing date the 25th July 1829 was not of disposing mind & memory. Therefore it is considered that the said writing bearing date the 25th July 1829 be null & void, and it appearing to the satisfaction of the court that at the time of executing the writing bearing date the 30th March 1829 was of sound & disposing mind. Therefore it is ordered that the said writing bearing date the 30th March 1829 be established as and for the last will and Testament of the said Thomas Monell decd. and thereupon it is ordered that the said will be recorded - Benj^r.
