The Commissioners of Roads to whom was referred the application of Simon Murfee, to examine the Road now existing between Murfee Depot and the Monroe Road at James Wells, and running along the Rail Road, in a view to the conversion of the same into a public road, this day made the following Report: "In pursuance of the accompanying order we have examined the route proposed for a Road from Murfee Depot to the point on the Monroe Road at or near the residence of the late Mrs. Lawrence, and are of opinion that the public convenience generally, and of the neighbourhood particularly through which it passes will be materially promoted by making it a public highway; that it will touch the lands of Simon Murfee only who has already constructed the Road, which is in length fourteen hundred and ninety-five yards, that in our opinion the probable expense of cutting said Road would be between fifty and sixty dollars, and, as the same has been cut, we would respectfully recommend to the Court to appropriate so much in compensation to Mr. Murfee for having already done so that we can perceive no disadvantages which are likely to result to the community by reason of its construction, and that there are no bridges or causeways to be erected or built along the route on which it is proposed to be constructed. Respectfully submitted. Alfred Hicks. Henry B. Vaughan. Coms. 19th Decr 1836." Whereupon the Court upon consideration of the said Report, refused to convert the Road mentioned in said Report into a public highway.
