The Commissioners of Roads who viewed the way proposed for opening a New Road from near Edwin G. Hart's and running by Clements Rockhills Mill to near James D. Magle's: This day made their report which is ordered to be recorded and is as follows: "Agreeably to the annexed order of the Honorable Court of Southampton County, directed to the Commissioners of Roads - We the undersigned in obedience to the requisitions of said order have viewed the Road as expressed in said order for a road commencing near Edwin G. Hart's and running by Clements Rockhills Mill to the road near James D. Magle's which distance is about two and a half miles (crossing) the road leading from Jerusalem to Newburg about half the distance of this Road - and are of opinion that the advantages to the Community from such roads would not justify the expenses of opening it, as it would only shorten the distance about one mile from the present road leading from Edwin G. Hart's to James Magle's, running principally in Hertford County, North Carolina. There is also a Mill path extending all the distance of the route which we think to be sufficient for all travel along on said road. Respectfully submitted to the Court. Given under our hands This day of November 1836.
