After

On the action of Sophie A. Johnson against William P. Long. This day came the plaintiff by his attorney and it appearing by the oath of a witness that the defendant had had legal notice of this action but was plausibly called but came not. Therefore it is considered by the Court that the plaintiff recover against the defendant the sum of forty dollars and twenty five cents with legal interest thereon from the 25th day of May 1846 till paid; which amount the plaintiff paid as penalty for the defendant in default of an execution in favor of Henry Foster - and also that the plaintiff recover against the defendant his costs by him about the action on the behalf expended.
