

Slaves eventually as they were procured to us. Their being sent on procured them out according to valuation, into some lots. When a view of the lots thus procured out, we endeavored to send back original articles as were discovered by exchanges but calculated to deliver an unfavourable idea in all cases the wishes of the house were accommodated to for as we conceived we had the power. During the progress of our work, we discovered a boy nearly blind of an orphan according to the wishes of the parties, we gave up this unfortunate boy to the wishes, who agreed to support him for life. We also found an old woman, an orphan to the state we determined to allow $100.00 for her support. We thought please to be one of the lot, making a corresponding deduction from value of that lot. By this means the balance will be borne equally by all. There being three infant boys, we determined to invest in their lots. Value of the negro slaves
