

Estate, the bond or bonds for the same shall be secured by trust deeds, in which if the donee be a married man, his wife shall join - and provided that in every instance, the real estate shall be wholly situated in this state.

On the Special report of Comr. James R. Tyler, filed May 20, 1878, & reporting that H.P. Pope one of the execs of H.P. Pope deceased had in his hand the sum of five thousand five hundred dollars belonging to the estate of the said Pope - and desiring to be instructed by the Court in what manner he shall invest the same, the Court doth hereby order that H.P. Pope invest the sum of five thousand five hundred dollars in bonds of either the City of Norfolk, Petersburg, Richmond or Lynchburg, or in Registered bonds of the United States, but the said exec is not authorized to pay a higher premium for any of said bonds than four per cent - Or if the said exec can find judicious investment for the said sum on real estate, he is hereby authorized to loan out the same or any part thereof, provided that in every such instance, the real estate shall be unencumbered, and the assessment shall be at least fifty per cent more than the amount loaned on the same - And in the event of loans on real estate, the bond or bonds for the same shall be secured by trust deeds, in which, if the donee be a married man, his wife shall join - and provided that in every instance, the real estate shall be wholly situated in this state.

On the Special report of Comr. James R. Tyler, filed May 20, 1878, and reporting that Wm E. Myrick one of the execs of H.P. Pope deceased had in his hand the sum of fine thousand five hundred dollars belonging to the estate of the said Pope, and desiring to be instructed by the Court in what manner he shall invest the said money - the Court doth hereby order that the said Wm E. Myrick invest the said sum of fine thousand five hundred dollars in bonds of the City of Norfolk, or Richmond or in Registered bonds of the United States, but the said exec will not pay a higher premium for any of said bonds than four percent - Or if the said exec can find judicious investment for the said sum on real estate, he is hereby authorized to loan out the same or any part thereof, provided that in every such investment the real estate shall be unencumbered, and its assessment shall be at least fifty percent more than the amount loaned on the same - and in the event of loans on real estate, the bond or bonds for the same, shall be secured by trust deeds