In the Chancery cause now pending in the Circuit Court of Nansemond county under the style of C. O. Harrell et als vs. John L. Savage et als, involving, among other things, the true construction of the last will and testament of Washington Weatherly deceased, the following facts are hereby agreed on by the counsel for both plaintiffs and defendants;

Ist . That Edward W. Savage who is mentioned in the said will, died without issue living at his death or born ten months thereafter; that is without children or their descendants; as a matter of fact he never had any children.

2nd . That since the death of the said Edward W. Savage, the plaintiffs have been in possession through tenants of the land mentioned in the will, or which was devised therein, and have paid the taxes on the same every year since that time .

I, Robert F. Harrell, do solemnly swear that I was well acquainted with Edward W. Savage, who is mentioned in the Washington Weatherly will; I know that inaddition to the land mentioned in said will, he owned a farm and tract of land of his own in Nansemond county, about twelve miles from the Weatherly farm; and that his own said farm was well stocked with pine timber; and to my knowledge he never sold or cut the timber on his own said farm in his lifetime.. I also know that ~~there~~ then is no building on the Weatherly farm, and has been none there since I have known the place. I also know that he built a ~~nice~~ house on his own farm (not the Weatherly farm) about the year before his death.

This cause came on this day to be heard on the bill and exhibits filed, the answers of John L. Savage, Martha J. Lewis, Olivia Kitchen, and Etta S. Etheredge, and the answer of the Camp Manufacturing Company as well as the statement of facts agreed on by counsel for both complainants and defendants, and the other defendants failing to plead, answer or demur, the bill was taken for confessed as to them, and was argued by counsel .

this day filed by leave of court on whom process has been duly served and still

On consideration whereof, the court being of the opinion that according to the true intent and meaning of the testator Washington Weatherly the clause providing that "if Edward W. Savage should die without a lawful heir the property should go to the heirs of John W. Harrell to them and their heirs forever" meant that if he should die without issue or lineal descendants; that therefore Edward W. Savage took a defeasible fee in the real estate mentioned in the said will of Washington Weatherly, which was defeated by his dying without issue; and that construing the said will so as to give effect to all parts thereof, the testator by the last clause in his said will providing that "the said Edward W. Savage should take possession of the said property" and use the "same for the benefit and interest of my sister Matilda A. Weatherly" "during her life or so much of the same as shall be necessary for her" "comfort and support and the excess" he should "use for his his own benefit," did not mean that the said real estate or any part thereof should be sold or consumed by the said Savage, but only meant that he should cultivate the said real estate, a farm of (176) one hundred and seventy six acres, and use the products or income thereof for the comfort and support of the said Matilda A. Weatherly during her life and use the excess of such products or income from said real estate for his own benefit ; and that there was no power to dispose of the corpus of the said real estate given to the said Edward W. Savage either expressly or by implication by said clause —

the court doth accordingly so construe the said will, and doth further order adjudge and decree that the injunction heretofore awarded the complainants to enjoin and restrain the Camp Manufacturing Company their agents and servants, and all other persons from cutting and removing the timber from the lands mentioned in the bill, be and the same is hereby made perpetual . But nothing in this decree is to be construed so as to deprive the widow of the said Edward W. Savage of any right of dower which she may have in the said real estate, that question not having been raised or made an issue in this cause.—

And it being suggested by Counsel for Camp Manufacturing Co. that they desire to present an appeal & supersedeas a petition for appeal to the Court of Appeals of Virginia it is ordered that the effect of this decree shall be suspended for the period of sixty days, when said Camp Manufacturing Co. shall give bond before the Clerk of this Court in the penalty of $100.—, with condition to pay all such damages as may accrue to any person by reason of the said Suspension, in case a supersedeas to such decree should not be allowed, and be effectual within the time specified—

Savage et als.

The answer of Camp Manufacturing Company, a corporation, to a bill of complaint exhibited against it and others in the Circuit Court of Nansemond County, in which C. O. Harrell and others are complainants.

This respondent for answer to the said bill, or so much there-of as it is advised is necessary for it to answer, answering says: It is true that Washington Weatherly died sometime in the year 1874, and that his will, a copy of which is in the records of this cause, was duly probated on the 14th. day of September, 1874.

It is also true, as stated in the bill of the complainants, that the said Weatherly devised all of his estate, both real and personal, to his sister, Matilda A. Weatherly, during her life time, and after her death, by the first clause of the will, gave the same to his nephew, Edward W. Savage, which clause is in the words following:

"1st. After the payment of all my just debts and funeral expenses, I give to my beloved sister, Matilda A. Weatherly, all my estate, both real and personal, during her natural life, and after her death I give the same to my nephew, Edward W. Savage to him and to his heirs forever: if however the said Edward W. Savage should die without a lawful heir, I give the aforesaid property to the heirs of John W. Harrell, to them and to their heirs forever."

This clause, however, is qualified by the second paragraph or second clause of the said will, which reads:

"2nd. I give to my belover sister, Margaret Harrell, Ten dollars, to her and her heirs forever.

Lastly, it is my request that at my death that the said Edward W. Savage shall take possession of the aforesaid property and use the same for the benefit and interest of my sister Matilda A. Weatherly during her life, or so much of same as shall be necessary for her comfort and support, and the excess he shall use for his own benefit."

It is also true that a part of the property devised under the said will was a tract of land lying in Holy Neck District of Nansemond County, containing about acres, an accurate description of which can be found in the contract between E. W. Savage and wife and your respondent, filed in this cause as exhibit "B".

It is also true that Edward W. Savage is dead, having died without issue, but that he left lawful heirs, and therefore your respondent claims that a fee simple title to the property which is the subject matter of this cause, was perfected in the said Edward W. Savage, and that he therefore having in his life time, to-wit, on the 3rd. day of September, 1896, made a sale of the standing timber on the said land to your respondent, that the said contract was binding, and is still binding, upon his heirs and all persons claiming by, through, or under him, or under said will, and that in accordance with the terms of the said contract, which is filed in the papers of the cause as exhibit "B", that your respondent is entitled to the property purchased by it.

Your respondent also maintains in response to the said bill of the complainant , that aside from the limitation claimed to have been made in the first clause of the will of Washington Weatherly upon the title of the said Edward W. Savage, that the last clause of the said will gave to the said Edward W. Savage for the benefit of the decedent's sister and himself, the only and dearest objects of his bounty, the right to use and employ the estate devised in the first clause of the will, or so much thereof as was necessary for their "comfort and support", and that the said Edward W. Savage being vested with discretion and authority in the premises, having exercised said authority by selling a portion of the standing timber on the premises, was acting within the power vested in him by the said will, and his action as such is binding upon the parties in interest: that acting with said authority, and in good faith, as your respondent believes, it purchased from him the timber aforesaid, and paid for same in accordance with the agreement then and there had between the parties, and they are advised that the title under the circumstances and conditions above stated, is good and valid, and s should be protected both in law and in equity.

And now having fully answered they pray hence to be dismissed with their reasonable cost in this behalf expenses. And they will ever pray &c.

The joint and separate answers of ~~Edward W.~~ J. L. Savage, Martha J. Lewis, Olivia Kitchen, and Ella S. Etheridge, to a bill in equity exhibited against them and others in the Circuit Court of Nansemond County by C. O. Harrell and others.

These defendants now and at all times, reserving to themselves the benefit of exceptions to the many errors in said bill contained, for answer thereto, or to so much thereof as they are advised it is material for them to answer, answer and say; That it is true, as alleged in said bill, that some time during the month of April, 1874, Washington Weatherly, a citizen of Nansemond County, departed this life, having previously executed his last will and testament, which was duly admitted to probate in the County Court of Nansemond County on the 14th day of September , 1874, and that the copy of same which is filed with complainants' bill is a true copy thereof.

These defendants are advised and therefore charge that under the said will, upon the death of the said Edward W . Savage, the said real estate therein devised passed to and became the property of these defendants in fee-simple, they being the heirs at law of the said Edward W. Savage, deceased.

These defendants have no desire to throw a cloud on the title to the said property which is claimed under said will, and, therefore join with the said complainants in the prayer that the court will construe the last said will and testament of the said Washington Weatherly and determine and decree who are the proper beneficiaries thereunder.

And now having fully answered, these defendants pray that they may be hence dismissed with their reasonable costs, etc.

vs Answer of Savage
Savage

To the Honorable Robert R. Prentis , Judge of the Circuit Court of Nansemond county ;

Humbly complaining shew unto your honor, your complainants C. O. Harrell, Walter S. Harrell, Robert L. Harrell, W. H. Harrell, L. H. Harrell, John B. Harrell, George T. Harrell, Clara Bowen, Nettie Camp , and Annie M. Harrell and A. C. Harrell, the following case; on infant who sues by C. O. Harrell his next friend : heirs apparent of John W. Harrell

Some time during the month of August 1874, Washington Weatherly, a citizen of Nansemond county, departed this life, having previously executed his last will and testament, which was duly admitted to probate in the county court of Nansemond county on the 14th day of September 1874, a copy of which is herewith filed marked "Exhibit A." and prayed to be taken as a part of this bill.

By the provisions of said will the testator gave all his estate (except ten dollars) both real and personal to his sister Matilda A. Weatherly for her natural life, and after her death he gave the same to his nephew Edward W. Savage to him and his heirs forever, with the proviso that if the said Edward W. Savage should die without a lawful heir then and in that event the said estate was to pass to and become the property of the heirs of John W. Harrell. He also provided that the said Edward W. Savage should take possession of the said estate, and use the same for the benefit and interest of the said sister Matilda, during her life, or so much of the same as might be necessary, and the excess the said Edward W. Savage should use for his own benefit.

The property conveyed by said will consisted of a small amount of personal and chattel property, and a small farm. The said Matilda A. Weatherly departed this life some time during the year 1887 and the said Edward W. Savage, who entitled her, departed this life some time during the year 1898 without a lawful heir, that is without a lineal descendant, without a child or children or the descendants of any.

Your complainants are advised and therefore charge that upon the death of the said Edward W. Savage without a lawful heir, that is without issue, the said real estate passed and became the property of your complainants in fee simple, they being the children of the said John W. Harrell.

They further say that the said personal estate was used and consumed by the said Edward W. Savage during is life time partly for the interest and comfort of the said Matilda Weatherly and partly for his own use after her death. The said real estate of the testator consists of a small farm or tract of land containing about 174 acres situated in Holy Neck district in Nansemond county Virginia, and adjoining the lands of Elisha Davidson, Turner Howell, the Gay tract and the Hays land; that after the death of the said Matilda A. Weatherly the said Edward W. Savage undertook to sell, and did sell and convey unto the Camp Manufacturing Company, a corporation, all the pine and poplar timber on said land, by his deed dated the 3rd day of September 1896, and duly recorded in the clerk's office of Nansemond county court, as will appear from a copy of said deed duly filed herewith marked "Exhibit B." and prayed to be read as a part of this bill : and that claiming under the said deed, the said Camp Manufactuting Company are about to go on the said land and cut down and remove said timber, to the irreparable injury of the said complainants, who charge that the said Edward W. Savage had no legal right to sell or to atempt to sell said timber, and that his said deed to said Camp Manufacturing Company for same is utterly null and void. Your complainants are advised and charge, that when the said Edward W. Savage departed this life without a lawful heir, that is without issue, or lineal descendants, as he did, all his rights and all the rights of those claiming under him to said estate under said will ceased and determined : that during his life, after the death of the said Matilda A. Weatherly, he had no right to sell timber from the said land .

Your complainants also charge that the defendants John L. Savage, who is a brother of the said Edward W. Savage, and Martha J. Lewis(John Lewis being her husband) Olivia Kitchen (W. M. Kitchen being her husband)Etta S. Etheredge (E. E. Etheredge being her husband) who are the sisters of the said Edward W. Savage and who are now claiming the said land as and the said Josie Savage the widow of said E.W. Savage theirs in fee simple, have no interest, right or title to said land, and no right to interfre with the same, notwithstanding their alleged and pretended rights under said will, and by virtue of their kinship to the said Edward W. Savage, but nevertheless the said John L. Savage, Martha J. Lewis, Olivia Kitchen , Etta S. Etheredge and Josie Sagave are claiming and setting up title to said land and attempting to exercise acts of ownership over the same, all of which is contrary to equity and good conscience .

Your complainants further say that upon the death of the said Edward W. Savage they, that is the complainants took possession of the said land and have been in possession of the same ever since; and that the claims and pretensions of the said defendants have the effect of throwing a cloud on the title of the said land, and prevent them from making an advantageous sale of the same. They further say that is was the intention of the said testator that at his death the said Edward W. Savage should go on the said farm and live there, and cultivate the same, and use the products thereof for the use interest and comfort of the said Matilda Weatherly, or so much thereof as was necessary for her comfort, and the excess of such products of said farm the said Edward W. Savage was to have for his own.

In tender consideration whereof and forasmuch as your complainants are remediless in the premises save by the aid of a court of equity where such matters are alone and properly cognizable, your complainants pray that the said John L. Savage, Martha J. Lewis, and John Lewis her husband, Olivia Kitchen and W. M. Kitchen her husband, Etta S. Etheredge and E. F. Etheredge her husband, Josie Savage and the Camp Manufacturing Company may be made parties defendant to this suit and required to answer to same, though an answer under oath is hereby waived; that the court will construe the said last will and testament of he said Washington Weatherly and determine and decree who are the proper beneficiaries thereunder; that the said deed from the said Edward W. Savage to the said Camp Manufacturing Company of September the 3rd 1856 for said timber on said land may be declared null and void and set aside, and that the said Camp Manufacturing Company and their agents and servants and all other persons may be enjoined and restrained from cutting and removing said timber, or in any way interferring with the same or from commiting any trespas on said land, till the further order of this court; and for all such other, further, and general relief as this case may require, or to which to equity may seem meet, and your complainants will ever pray & : notice is hereby given that ~~[illegible]~~ the court will be asked to allow proper counsel fees for services rendered in this cause.
