Of the above Bonds, the large majority, indeed all with the exception of perhaps 3 or 4, are entirely worthless. Many of the parties are long since dead, some gone into bankruptcy, and others have been visible or tangible means out of which to make the money. The claims have most of them been placed in the hands of an Officer and whenever deemed advisable, judgments have been obtained. The same may be said of some there is few hundred dollars worth of open accounts which are still in my possession. They have been returned with the understanding that nothing could be made of them.
