

(177)
part I do also give unto her for and during the said term of her Natural life the use of one half of my Orchard lying within the above mentioned boundaries to be allotted to her by my friends Samuel Calvert and Griffin Little having regard to quality as well as quantity, and the use of all the clear land on the plantation which I bought of Kirby Nick, to be allotted and set apart to her by a line run from the river towards the Pledger Plantation, but I give the use and enjoyment of all the aforesaid lands to my wife for and during the said term of of her Natural life upon this express condition, ~~that~~ she shall not touch any of the said lands within fifteen than any second year hereof. I give and bequeath unto my beloved wife Elizabeth Nick my Black Horse called Jack my Bay (filly) called Polly, the riding Chair (and Harness and a pair of wheels (Exclusive thereof) called hog four Cows and calves, one sow, three sows and twenty spring Pigs, all the hogs now called hers, fifteen hundred weight of Pork, fifteen bushels of oat bacon in proportion, fifty barrels of Corn, ten Thousand weight of blades of corn and much part of the life of her and shucks, all out of the growing crop, one third part of my Plantation intress and kitchen furniture at their appraisal value, three feather beds, bedsteads and furniture, one of them to her of her own choice, one Walnut dining table, one small Walnut Table one pine breakfast Table, one half dozen Windsor Chairs one half dozen Stag bottomed Chairs one pair of hand Irons the Walnut Cup boards in the Chamber one third part of the glass and crockery ware, the Silver teaspoons she formerly used the Loom and gear called hers including the Sley and Harness ten three gallon Cedar Casks and two bushels of Soy beans and to hold the same to her and her heirs forever in Love and Satisfaction of dowry in my estate.

Therely I give unto my beloved son Richard Nick the following tracts or parcels of land to wit the Plantation where and now lives by the same bounding by which it was