The Southside Virginian

The Southside Virginian, published since 1983, is owned and operated by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis, S. Kathryn Hooper, and Christopher M. Hooper, P. O. Box 3684, Richmond, VA 23235. Prior to 1990, The Southside Virginian was owned and operated by J. C. Kolbe and L. H. Hart. It is published quarterly, with issues appearing in January, April, July, and August of each year. Subscriptions are $20.00 per year, postage included, and are on a calendar year basis, with subscribers receiving all issues for the year in which they subscribe. Please inform us, at the above address, of any change in address.

The Southside Virginian, solicits unpublished source material of genealogical and historical significance to researchers of Southside Virginia which includes the counties of Princess Anne, Norfolk, Nansemond, Isle of Wight, Southampton, Surry, Sussex, Prince George, Chesterfield, Dinwiddie, Powhatan, Greensville, Amelia, Nottoway, Brunswick, Cumberland, Prince Edward, Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Charlotte, Halifax, Henry, Pittsylvania, Buckingham, Bedford, Campbell, Appomattox, and Franklin. Efforts are made to balance the material published so that the greatest coverage of the geographical area can be achieved. All materials submitted for publication should be well documented and be factually accurate. Every effort is made to check submitted materials for accuracy and originality, but neither the owners or staff of The Southside Virginian can assume responsibility for errors on the part of its contributors. Corrections of proved errors will appear in subsequent issues of the magazine.

All material appearing in The Southside Virginian is copyrighted in the name of The Southside Virginian. This copyright protects all original materials published, and is not intended to interfere with the copyright of any materials quoted or cited by our authors. It is understood that records in the public domain cannot be copyrighted. Transcriptions and abstracts of such records as deeds, probated wills, tax records, tombstone inscriptions, etc., can be protected in the form in which they are submitted. The form this material takes in The Southside Virginian is covered by the general copyright of the magazine. Contributors should use extreme care not to infringe on the copyright of others. Neither the owners or staff of The Southside Virginian are responsible for any infringement of copyrights by its contributors. EDITORIAL

Welcome to a new era for The Southside Virginian !!! As you have already noticed, we have changed the size and format of the magazine. This is in an effort to make the magazine more manageable to read, but it also saves printing and postage costs and allows us to maintain lower subscription rates. With our computer typesetting, we are maintaining the volume of material published in previous issues (actually expanding it) but making it more readable by employing standardized publishing techniques used in the magazine industry.

The readability of The Southside Virginian is important, but what most of you are concerned about is content. We are endeavoring to provide a wider spectrum of materials than has appeared in the past. We will also try to cover areas of Southside Virginia that have received little attention. We are attempting to balance each issue with respect to the types of material presented. Hopefully, the index appearing in each issue will make The Southside Virginian an even better reference tool.

A word now about our subscription renewal process. As has been the case in the past, we will supply a renewal notice and return envelope in Issue 4 of each volume. Please take the time to fill out the renewal and return it to us in a timely manner. This not only assures you of receiving The Southside Virginian without interruption, but helps us cut down on postage costs in sending out renewal notices. Also, if you wait until after the first issue is sent before renewing, we must pay extra postage to send it to you, as we lose our bulk rate advantage in individual mailings. This is why we have to charge more for the back issues which are available.

We have some exciting ideas in mind in our plans for The Southside Virginian. We need your feedback and suggestions on topics of research, articles you would like to see, etc. The Southside Virginian exists for YOU, our readers. We will try to be responsive to your needs and requests.

HAPPY NEW YEAR, 1991

Mrs. Watson Winslow, History of Perquimans County [North Carolina], (1931, repr. 1990) 488 pp, index, illus, cloth. $35.00 + $2.50 handling. This volume is rich in primary source materials as it is comprised mainly of abstracts of deeds from 1681 to the Revolutionary War period. Perquimans was an original North Carolina precinct with very close ties to Norfolk, Princess Anne, Nansemond, and Isle of Wight counties of Virginia.

Rev. Jethro Rumble, A History of Rowan County, North Carolina, (1881, repr. 1990) 434 pp, index, illus, cloth. $30.00 + $2.50 handling. This volume is based on official courthouse records, private documents, and personal recollections. Twenty-four North Carolina counties and all of Tennessee have been formed from the original area of Rowan County.

Surry County
A Biographical Sketch

WILLIAM FOREMAN of Surry County, Virginia

Submitted by Mary Lee Barnes

William Foreman of Surry County, Virginia 1654-1702, assumed to be the progenitor of the line of Foremans in Edgecombe County, North Carolina in the 18th century, is first recorded in Surry County as William Foreman, a servant of "James Matthews, planter, who sold to Richard Merydale, certain possessions, including stock, right and claims in and to his servants and their services, viz; William Savage and William Foreman for his term [6 years], all to be paid at some convenient place or upon his own plantation called and known as Matthews Mount, within one quarter of a mile from James River where a ship or sallop may safely come and ride." Witnesses: Sach Brewster and Blu Pdtway. Dated 1 July 1656. Prior to this on 18 October 1653, A William Foreman had been transported by Charles Grimes with 20 other persons in which Grimes had received 1000 acres.

On the 25th of March in Surry County an indenture was made between Christopher Lewis and Jane, his wife, of Southwarke Parish and William Foreman for 60 acres of part of dividant bought of Christopher Lawson north to Berth Owen, west to Ann Brownes and south where Lewis now lives.

Witness: John Corker. Dated 25 March 1661.

On the 4 Sept. 1665 William Foreman was among those impaneled as jury upon a warrant from Mr. Thomas Warrine, one of his majesties justices, to view the corpse of James Hirgate which jury found bruises on head, face, hand and brow, left side of nose and ear, but not able to determine "how he come to it", and refer themselves to court.

Alice Marriot, age 32, made an affadavit about a conversation held in the home of William Foreman and his wife in 1667 "wherin Col. Swann's part in Bacon's Rebellion was described most unflatteringly"

... others present were Laurence Meazle, Katherine Witherington and Thomas High.

William Foreman appeared on the Tithable list of Surry County in 1668 and 1670 along with Bartho. Owen and Mr. Nathaniel Knight.

On the April 1672, there was a complaint by William Foreman that Thomas Tias has shot among his hogs and killed some — William Kite age 20 years, being at Mr. Thomson's house last Xmas said that he and Thomas Tias were talking about Wm. Foreman's hogs. Tias replied he had killed but one — wild and the eares were nailed up at his Godfathers and he would live at Mr. Thompson's or his Godfathers if it were but to kill Wm. Foreman's hogs. Thomas Tias was to pay 200 lbs. tobacco to Foreman.

William Foreman, Jno Charles and Jno. Corker were witness to the will of Christopher Lewis dated 1 Sept. 1673 and probated 7 Apr. 1674. Luke Measell, Katherine Owen Roger Williams; son. Roger, Jr. were named as heirs. Also named was William Thompson, minister. In 1673 Thompson and wife, Katherine, sold a parcel of land commonly, "called Christo Lewis, nigh the church at the head of Gray's Creek which was guessed to about 70 acres which parts said land from Joh Witsons land WH is bounded with a valley running betwixt Wm. Foreman and the said land north young Luke Mizell's line of marked trees"

Wit: William Corker, William Parker, Geo Watkins, Mathias Marriott & Tho Andrews.

Dated 1 Aug 1673. on the 11-21, 1673, William Foreman was Guardian of Luke Mizell, orphan of Luke.

In November of 1673, William entered caveat for land lying upon headline Mr. Owen's land upon Jno. Shohoooin's swamp. William Hus, Leg. left a cow to the daughter of William Foreman in will dated 31 Oct. 1676. In October of 1674, Bartholomew Owen and Joanna, his wife, sold 150 acres to William Foreman, a neighbor who was to pay Quit Rents. On the back of this deed dated 15 Dec 1683 William Foreman assigned land to Richd Jordan and William Brown for 800 lbs. of tobacco. On the 14th February 1677, William Foreman and Jno. Moring witnessed the inventory of Bartholomew Owen estate signed by Jane Owen.

William Foreman, Guardian of Luke Mizell took action against William Thompson for trespassing upon the orphan's land on the 3 February, 1679/80.

Foreman, with others, was bound to the court for 40,000 lbs of tobacco for administering several estates. One was for the orphans of Mr. Thomas Warren, deceased, to pay to them: Allen, Robert and William, their part of their father's estate. Thomas Warren [Jr. ?] and Ni. Sessums were also bound, and Wm. Seward witnessed 1 March 1680.

On 29 October 1680 Katherine Cornell, Wm. Foreman and Aug. Hunnicut, Jr. are bound to the court for 40,000 lbs. tobacco. Katherine Cornell, adm. of her husband's estate, Samuel Cornell.

Wit: Wm. Seward, Wm. Corkerham.

In June of 1681, Wm Foreman of Surry Co. in Virginia, planter and Edward Bookey of same, tract containing 180 acres east upon the line of sd. Wm. Foreman south upon John Walker's line, South and west upon Mr. Edwards line, north upon Coll. Wm. Brownes lines.

signed Will FForeman [sic] at a Ct. held for Co. of Surry. June 1681. Wm. Forman Ackg'd. Also appeared Esther, wife, to said William Foreman relinquished dower rights.

Several young men were evidently bound out to Foreman over the years. One of these was Wm. Hare when on June 8 1681, Will Foreman and Lt. Coll. Wm. Browne put 10,000 lbs tobacco bond. Sam. Swann, Wm. Pollard, witnesses. In 1686 Walt Haire appeared on the tithable list in Wm. Foreman's household, and in 1687, Wm. Hare did.

In spite of his prominent position in the community, Wm. Foreman of Surry of Heigh Waids was prosecuted for "not keeping his roade according to law" and also for "employing his man of a Sabbath day, upon unlawful affairs". Also on the 11 February 1680, he refused to serve on Jury of inquest but paid the fine of 400 lbs tobacco for contempt 5 March 1681.

William Foreman was also an attorney for in 1790: "Eliza, wife to Jno. Mcleode of Isle of Wight Co. do hereby nominate ordain and appoint my loving friends Mr. Will Foreman & Mr. Wm. Foster, or either of them joynbly or severally to be my attorney to acknowledge at the next court" ... In 1693 he was listed on the tithables, Wm. Foreman, Law: Many references are made to his being an attorney in the records.

Also in 1693 he addressed Wm. Edwards: "I desire you to record my ear marke for cattle it being a crop on each ear and a half crop taken from the underside of each ear. Signed Will Foreman", and in June of 1694 he was appointed Sub Sheriffe after the following message:

"Mr. Francis Mason

Sir: Since it hath pleased God to afflict me with the Belly-ach and know not whether I shall be able to accomplish county business against the next Court I do request the favour of you and the rest of the Justices that live nearest the Warenect to call a Court and Sweare Mr. William Foreman My sub Sherriffe least the County business should be neglected.

Mr. Foreman will acquaint the rest of the Gentlemen of the kind that you appoint the meeting. I am sorry that it happens soo that I am forced to give you this trouble and shall be alwaies ready to serve you to my utmost ability — any service to the gentlemen.

Your humble servant, Henry Tooker"

The records show that Foreman remained sub Sheriffe at least until 1696. Two more land transactions were made by him in which Hester [Esther] signed her dower rights. One was in 1696 when he sold Richard Jordan 150 acres. It was witnessed by Wilt Arnal and [?] Poiter signed.

Benjamin Foreman appeared on the tithable list in William's household with Robert Gully in 1701. Benjamin was enumerated in the household of Zepariah Gardner in the upper precinct Southwarke in June 1697, 1697 and 1699. In September court of 1701, William Foreman sued Zephaniah Gardner, but it was not settled until after William's death. Six hundred pounds were paid William Brown and Hester Foreman 9 March 1702.

Foreman's will dated 2 Jan 1701/2 Leg - to Benjamin Foreman 50 A of land I bought of Luke Meazle att Blackwater, if no heirs, to the College of William and Mary — Forever. Given to Trust in his friend, Capt. Wm. Browne, the care of my wife Hester, for maintenance and at her death estate personal and real to him. Capt. Wm. Browne and wife, Exrs.

Prob. 5 Jan 1702

Wit: John Hatch, Xen Ferribee, Sion Hill, Surry County, Virginia.

On the 24th Feb. 1702/3 the inventory and estate appraisement were made and returned on the 3rd of November 1703. Robert Warren, Joesph Proctor, and William Browne were the appraisers of William Foremans estate. Items included in the estate were household, steers, old horse, hogs, sows, barrows heifers, cows and calves, 13 bbls. corn, parcel of books, etc. These odds and ends valued at 24,000 pounds of tobacco and list of negroes valued at 65 pounds, 12 shillings and 27½ pence.

Benjamin Foreman was still on the Tithable list in 1703, and served as witness to the will of Roger Williams with Nicholas Smith and Randall Revell on 24th October 1706. George Williams named as a son of Roger Williams was later in Chowan N.C. next to Benjamin and wife, Verrily. Benjamin sold him several tracts of land. Benjamin sold him several tracts of land. Benjamin named his oldest son William, but the question remains as to whether Benjamin was the son of William. If he was, why did William not leave him a larger legacy? Proof that this was Benjamin of Edgecombe is in indenture of the 22 October 1741 Benjamin Foreman of Edgecombe Co., N.C. to Roger Williams of Southwark Parish, Surry Co., Va., a parcell of land, 50 acs. bounded on 125 acs. formerly belonging to Richard Blow and purchased from said Blow by the said Roger Williams; adjoining Francis Sharp.

Benjamin Foreman signed.

Witnesses: Richard Andrews, John Hunnicutt and Thomas Williams.

Recorded 11-18-1741.

Church History

A Surry County Colonial Church Site

Contributed by Doris Y. Stone

Editor's Note:

The new Lawnes Creek Parish Church (the third) was built in 1695.¹ It was built on land that adjoined Arthur Allen of Bacon's Castle. The site can be identified today, as a second church was completed on the site in 1754, and was known then as the Lower Church of Southwark Parish.² This is the church ruins that one can see driving west on Route 10, from Bacon's Castle, on the left side of the highway.

1 June 1636:

John Dunston was given a patent of 250 acs. in James City Co. In Hog Island maine, (which seems to have covered eastern section of what is now Surry Co.). 50 acres of this was for the personal adventure of his wife Cicely Dunston and 200 acres for the transportation of four persons. (Land Patent Book I, Part I, p.354) At this time, I have not been able to determine how or when John Dunston arrived in the Colony.

On the same date, he was granted a patent on 600 acres in the same location, making total of 850 acres. This 600 acres was granted for the transportation of twelve persons. (Ibid)

In 1661 he sold 500 acres of this land to Arthur Allen, leaving balance of 350 acres.

* The memorial tablet set in the south wall of the ruins is inscribed: "Lower Surry Church, Lawn's Creek Parish, 1639...Burned, 1868." The inscription is inaccurate, since the ruins are of the Lower Church of Southwark Parish, as this area was incorporated in Southwark Parish in 1739 and Lawnes Creek Parish was abolished.³ The brick walls have been stabilized with iron rods and the cemetery and grounds cared for. An inspection of the ruins allows one to visualize the church as it stood in 1754, for many of its features are still in evidence. The church fell into disuse after the Revolutionary War, then was used by various congregations. It burned after the Civil War.

28 Nov. 1659

John Dunston had died (no date found), and though there was listed a possible will, there are no records of such recorded. He apparently had three sons: John, Peleg and Ralph. John and Peleg Dunston sold their interest in the land to their brother Ralph Dunston. (DB 1652-1671 p.141)

1 Sept. 1660:

Ralph Dunston and his wife Hester, sold the 300 acres to Thomas Clarie, cooper, listed land as "left me by my father, Mr. John Dunston." (DB 1652-1671 p. 158)

1 Jan. 1661/2:

Thomas Clarie of Lower Chippoaks, and Judith his wife, sold to Arthur Long, planter, 300 acres in Lawnes Creek Parish, purchased of Ralph Dunston 1 Sept. 1660. (DB 1652-1671 p. 175)

17 May 1692:

Arthur Long the son of Arthur I, sold 150 acres of this land to Thomas Drew, which land was then in occupation of William Bennett. (DB #4 1687-1694 p. 263)

24 Aug. 1695:

Thomas Drew assigned $\frac{3}{4}$ of an acre of that land, to the wardens of the Lawnes Creek Parish, "for the building of a church there-on."
["...bounded...northeasterly on the land of Arthur Allen"]

This church was destroyed in 1751 and the new Lower Southwark Church was built in 1751 near the same site.

"Marlborough"

Transcribed by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis

Location: 3.5 miles northeast of Carson, Virginia, on Route 301; thence 1 mile southeast on Route 35; thence on south side of Route 35.

Date: About 1825.

Owners: J. Richard Moore and his wife Rebecca Clements Moore owned this estate prior to 1847, at which time by a deed of gift it became the property of their daughter Frances Peebles Lee and her husband Littleton Leath Lee. By the will of Frances Peebles Lee, made June 7, 1886 and approved in court on March 14, 1901, it was inherited by three of her children, namely: Charles N., Andrew F. and Hesta A. Lee. By deed of partition on January 25, 1912, between Charles N. Lee and his wife Susie E. and Andrew F. Lee and his wife Ruth C., Charles N. Lee and his wife Susie E. and Hesta A. Lee became the owners of two hundred eighty-three acres of the estate on which the old Moore house stood. By the will of Charles N. Lee, made March 30, 1922, approved in court July 31, 1925, it was inherited by his widow Susie E. Lee and his sister Hesta A. Lee. By the will of Susie E. Lee, made October 3, 1934 and approved in court August 18, 1937, her share was inherited by her son Gordon S. Field. On August 24, 1937, Gordon S. Field and Hesta A. Lee sold the property to Albina Merhout, the present owner (1937).

Description: This home is a two story, frame "L" shaped building, located on a slight hill and surrounded by a one-half acre lawn, set with elm trees. It has plain weatherboarding and plain box cornice; a slate gabled roof; three common bond brick chimneys; ten first floor windows with eighteen eight inch by ten inch panes; and eleven second floor windows with twelve eight inch by ten inch panes.

The front one story, metal hip roof porch extends across the entire house. It has small round columns. Through the two full length panel front door, one enters a hall, which is eight feet by eighteen feet. In the hall on the right, ascending from the front, is a two flight, open string, easy tread stairway having a turned pine hand-rail, balusters and newel. On either side of the hall is an eighteen foot square room, each having a medium height plain mantel to a chimney which is placed at either side of the house. To the rear of the left room is the "L" in which there are two rooms with a chimney between them. These rooms are sixteen feet by eighteen feet. In the front "L" room there is a boxed in stairway, leading to the two rooms above, of the same size as the first floor rooms. On the second floor there is a room over each first floor room of the same size and a front hall room eight feet by ten feet.

A one story, metal, lean-to porch extends along the entire right side of the "L" and has small round columns.

Through out the house the walls are plastered, the mantels are plain and of medium height, full length two panel doors, common iron locks and hinges; and the floor planks measuring about from four inches to six inches wide. Under the front of the house, there is a cellar containing three rooms, with concrete floors and brick walls. The eight windows each have six eight inch by ten inch panes.

About fifty yards south of the house is the Moore and Lee family graveyard.

Historical Significance:

This home built by J. Richard Moore about 1825, was owned by him until about 1850 when he moved to another of his estates. He married Rebecca Clements and was one of Prince George County's most extensive land owners. The rear two rooms of this house are the original section. The front section was added and the entire house remodeled by Littleton Leath Lee in 1859.

On two occasions during the war between the states, this home was occupied by Confederate Generals, who erected tents in the yard to accommodate the soldiers.

Will Abstracts

Loose Wills of Prince George County before 1865

Abstracted by Anne Bradbury Peebles

During the War Between the States in the summer of 1864, the courthouse at Prince George was burned, and along with it most of the early records of the county court. Some individuals, who resided in the county and knew of the disaster, brought their copies of some of these vital records to the courthouse to be recorded. Anne Bradbury Peebles went through the packets of loose papers and abstracted and indexed these wills, marriage bonds and other papers so that the information would be available to the public. She listed those wills and marriage bonds for the years before 1865, noting that only one will predated 1800.

In May 1955 Miss Peebles made a note at the end of the abstracts: "The loose wills at the courthouse in Prince George were listed by this compiler ten or fifteen years ago. The abstracting of the wills and marriage bonds for this compilation was done in the summer of 1954, and rechecked a short time ago. Two wills formerly there are not there now. It seems well to record the fact that they were there. They were the wills of:

R. G. Dunn, probated 1840

Patsey Gilliam, probated 1829"

The carbon copy of the typed abstracts has remained in the files in the office of the clerk of the circuit court. They will be presented in the Southside Virginian in chronological order on a continuing basis.

Anne Bradbury Peebles was a native of the area but lived in Washington, D.C. for many years and worked as a consulting genealogist. She did much of her research at the Library of Congress.

COMMENTARY

Is There a Will Extant?

by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis

One of the tantalizing and frustrating experiences of research for ancestors in the colonial history of Virginia is the search for wills that have been mentioned in other documents. Often wills are mentioned in earlier printed material, but no source is given for the information. It should be stated in capital letters that the will may not now be extant.

When a court document refers to a will that was recorded, it may well be in a county in which the early records have been burned and none, or almost none, of the early records have survived. It may be that reference to a will in printed family accounts relates to a copy in the possession of a family member that is not available to the public (eg. a copy has not been made available to the Virginia State Library for public use), or to a will that was among the county court records at an earlier time, but has since disappeared.

It is probably more frustrating to know that a will did exist and not be able to find it than to know that the county records are not extant and there is not much hope of finding a will. Frustration drives one to search more diligently and to keep hoping. It is with this thought in mind that your editor provides a small ray of hope.

Trace the place of residence of a known ancestor back to the root counties from which the county of residence of that individual evolved. A Hornbook of Virginia History, Edited by Emily J. Salmon and published by the Virginia State Library is an excellent guide to the formation of the counties of Virginia. A search should then be instituted in the root counties.

A Preliminary Guide to pre-1904 County Records in the Archives Branch Virginia State Library and Archives, Suzanne Smith Ray, Lyndon H. Hart and J. Christian Kolbe lists all of the early county records on file. It is easy to tell which counties are the burned record counties because of the absence of early records in a number of counties! This book also lists the microfilm records that are available and can be borrowed through interlibrary loan. The Miscellaneous Microfilm Reel #461 itemizes the records available on microfilm and gives the reel number (by which the document must be ordered). This microfilm can be borrowed through interlibrary loan or can be purchased directly from the Virginia State Library.

It requires a trip to the V.S.L. Archives (and permission from the appropriate county circuit court clerk) to view most of the county court records in the form of loose papers and chancery suit papers that are located in the archives, but they do sometimes provide copies of wills of estates that have required chancery court action to settle. Sometimes these are wills that were originally recorded in will books that have not survived. Sometimes a chancery suit (of either an estate or a debt against an estate) will appear in a county to which a legatee or creditor may have moved, and a copy of the will may have been presented to that county court as evidence. Among the loose papers there may be an original will that has survived where the court record book did not.

It may take a while, but one of the goals of this publication is to present wills and documents where the appropriate court record may not be extant. Such documents among the private papers of subscribers are solicited (with careful notation as to the source of such contributions).

Word-Processor vs Computer

Those of you who are considering putting your long worked-on family history research into the latest marvels of technology please note. There are numerous "word processors" being marketed which allow you to type, save, correct, spell-check, edit, and print your material to your hearts content. Some of these machines do an excellent job but, BEWARE - THEY ARE NOT COMPUTERS.

If you aspire to one day publish your material or share material with someone else; you will be disappointed to know that the disks and format of the files used on these machines are not transferable to any other form of electronic media. They are self-contained systems that are only compatible with identical machines.

These "dedicated" machines sell from around $350 and up. Full-fledged IBM compatible computers can now be had for approximately the same price. When coupled with an inexpensive word processing program (a lot of systems even come with one) computers can do much more work than these dedicated word-processors. Not only that, but the document files used on these computers are compatible with most other systems in use today. Publishers will accept these files and thus reduce your cost of typesetting.

If you are interested in pursuing computer genealogy, talk to someone who is already involved. Salespeople don't have any idea what a genealogist's needs are and can't make valid suggestions on software or equipment. There are several publications dealing with all aspects of computer genealogy. An excellent one is Genealogical Computing, a quarterly publication from Ancestry, P. O. Box 476, Salt Lake City, UT 84110, $25.00/yr.

QUERIES

Notice to subscribers. Queries may request explicit information on individuals who should be identified by place name (county or town) and by date (year only). We will attempt to print the queries as received without editing, if possible, so please keep them as concise as possible. If you wish to exchange information on a specific surname or group of people with similar names, simply begin your query with "Exchange" and follow with the family names of interest. Queries are only accepted for active subscribers at the time the query is received. Queries are printed in the order in which they are received and on a space available basis. Multiple queries from the same individual may appear in separate issues. Please PRINT or TYPE your queries to make sure that the information published is precise and names and addresses are correct so that you can receive the answers you wish without delay.

PATE, TAYLOR, ELLINGTON/ELINGTON: What happened to Col. Thomas Pate's son Thomas Pate? When was he born? Was he the Thomas Pate who died in Sussex Co, VA in 1774? Dockins & Frances Goodall). Frances Goodall was dau of Parks Goodall & Franky Cox. LaVern Zalmanzig, 2205 SW 85th, Okla. City, OK 73159.

GUIDELINES FOR PUBLICATION

To provide the best use of materials for publication we would appreciate our contributors using the following suggested styles:

1. Identification of Original Court Records (either transcribed or photocopied)

Example: Chesterfield County Deed Book 6 [or VI, if Roman numerals are used], 1850-1879, pp 260-320.

NOTE: Be sure not to interchange Arabic and Roman numerals as many court clerks used both enumeration systems in numbering books.

Chancery Suits - Please identify by county and include the names of the plaintiffs and defendants, dates and folder number (or whatever filing system may have been used).

2. Manuscripts, Letters and Family Histories - Please follow the Chicago Manual of Style (13th edition) or the Modern Language Association Handbook (Gibaldi and Achtert). The documentation should be presented in the form of endnotes rather than a bibliography of references.

Example of form: Name of author, title, identification of type of document, location of the document and date.

Citations used for court records may be abbreviated, but please clearly define them initially so that they are understandable to the reader. All vital record information, wills, estate administrations, deeds and land transfers should be documented with endnotes.

Since the subscribers of this journal often live some distance from the sources of information, please present your articles in such a manner that individuals can write to the appropriate institution with specific information to request documents or reprints.

3. Church Records

Please include the county/town in which the church is located and the date of establishment. The location of the church by contemporary street or route numbers should be included.

4. Cemetery Records

Please name and locate the cemetery with contemporary landmarks, using street and route numbers and as explicit information as possible. Many times descendants like to visit family graveyards if possible.

Where gravestone inscriptions are transcribed, please list them as they are found, not in alphabetical order. Often the location of a grave, when the names are not the same, will give clues as to relationships.

5. Bible Records

Please include the family name, county of residence, dates included, the publisher of the Bible and the date of publication, the last known owner (which may be a library or individual) of the Bible and the address of that person (city).

6. Book (Example of form for citation)

Virginius Dabney, Virginia The New Dominion (Charlottesville: The University Press of Virginia, 1971) p.32.

7. Article (Example of form for citation)

Douglas H. Lamb and Glenn D. Reeder, "Reliving Golden Days," Psychology Today June 1986: p.22.

Computer Users Note:

We would be most happy to receive your computer files for documents or stories submitted for publication. In most cases, we will be able to convert your files to a format compatible with our system. Please submit a hard copy print-out of the file with the computer disk(s) so that the proper formatting can be maintained in publication. Also, please indicate what system and program were used to create the files.

The systems/programs which we use for publication are IBM/MS-DOS compatible computers and WordPerfect 5.1 software. We also have scanners and programs available for graphics applications as needed.

If your system is not compatible with our file format, the easiest format for us to use is ASCII (or DOS) text file format. If you have any questions concerning submitting computer files, do not hesitate to contact us. We will work with you. Getting your computer files saves a tremendous amount of time in data input and guarantees more accurate duplication of materials.

The Southside Virginian

The Southside Virginian, published since 1983, is owned and operated by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis, S. Kathryn Hooper, and Christopher M. Hooper, P. O. Box 3684, Richmond, VA 23235. Prior to 1990, The Southside Virginian was owned and operated by J. C. Kolbe and L. H. Hart. It is published quarterly, with issues appearing in January, April, July, and October of each year. Subscriptions are $20.00 per year, postage included, and are on a calendar year basis, with subscribers receiving all issues for the year in which they subscribe. Back issues, where available, are $25.00 per volume (4 issues). Please inform us, at the above address, of any change in address.

The Southside Virginian, solicits unpublished source material of genealogical and historical significance to researchers of Southside Virginia which includes the counties of Amelia, Appomattox, Bedford, Brunswick, Buckingham, Campbell, Charlotte, Chesterfield, Cumberland, Dinwiddie, Franklin, Greenville, Halifax, Henry, Isle of Wight, Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Nansemond, Norfolk, Nottoway, Pittsylvania, Powhatan, Prince Edward, Prince George, Princess Anne, Southampton, Surry, and Sussex. Efforts are made to balance the material published so that the greatest coverage of the geographical area can be achieved. All materials submitted for publication should be well documented and be factually accurate. Every effort is made to check submitted materials for accuracy and originality, but neither the owners or staff of The Southside Virginian can assume responsibility for errors on the part of its contributors. Corrections of proven errors will appear in subsequent issues of the magazine.

All material appearing in The Southside Virginian is copyrighted in the name of The Southside Virginian. This copyright protects all original materials published, and is not intended to interfere with the copyright of any materials quoted or cited by our authors. It is understood that records in the public domain cannot be copyrighted. Transcriptions and abstracts of such records as deeds, probated wills, tax records, tombstone inscriptions, etc., can be protected in the form in which they are submitted. The form this material takes in The Southside Virginian is covered by the general copyright of the magazine. Contributors should use extreme care not to infringe on the copyright of others. Neither the owners or staff of The Southside Virginian are responsible for any infringement of copyrights by its contributors. Written permission must be granted by the owners of this magazine for the reproduction, in any form, of any material contained herein.

EDITORIAL

You have now received your first issue of The "New" Southside Virginian. We hope you like the changes that have been made. We also want you to know of the efforts we are making to ensure that you receive your magazine undamaged and in a timely manner. As you have seen, we are now utilizing mailing envelopes to cut down on damage in the mails. This should make it easier for the postal service to get your magazine to you because it is easier for them to handle. We are accelerating our production schedule to get the magazine out earlier which allows the postal service more time to deliver it to you.

Through our new accounting methods, we can track your subscriptions more accurately and hopefully put an end to the confusion that has existed in the past. All of this has been done so that you do not have to worry whether you are going to receive your next issue of The Southside Virginian.

We are sure you are aware of the recent postal increase. This, along with the efforts we are making above require us to change the way we are handling your subscriptions and requests for lost magazines. In the future, any subscriptions received after October 1 will be applied to the following year. This means that after the final issue for a year has been mailed, the whole volume for that year will be considered as back issues. In addition, if you fail to receive an issue of the magazine, you will have 30 days from the end of the month of publication (January, April, July, or October) in which to notify us of the non-receipt in order to receive a free mailing. Otherwise, we must charge $2.50 to cover the additional handling and postage.

For subscriptions received during the year, the previous issues published during that year will be sent at the time the first scheduled issue is mailed following receipt of the subscription. This will allow us to take full advantage of our bulk rate mailing status.

We truly want to make The Southside Virginian one of the finest publications in genealogy. By placing the above controls on our operation we can provide you with a consistent product on a more timely schedule. We exist for you. Keep writing.

Prince George County

Will Abstracts

Loose Wills of Prince George County before 1865

During the War Between the States in the summer of 1864, the courthouse at Prince George was burned, and along with it most of the early records of the county court. Some individuals, who resided in the county and knew of the disaster, brought their copies of some of these vital records to the courthouse to be recorded. Anne Bradbury Peebles went through the packets of loose papers and abstracted and indexed these wills, marriage bonds and other papers so that the information would be available to the public. She listed those wills and marriage bonds for the years before 1865, noting that only one will predated 1800.

Burials in Salem Methodist Church Cemetery

Contributed by Christine Levet Gerbel

Editor's Note:

This cemetery is located southwest of Route 35 on County Road 638. The Church is on the right beyond the intersection with County Road 631. Located east of Interstate 95. The listings for this cemetery are complete as of 28 October 1983

Salem Church is a white clapboard building with a square belfry to the right of its unsheltered entrance, and a wing projecting from its left side. At the rear is the cemetery surrounded by an iron fence, and near by is an old structure that was formerly the church building.

*The present church was built in 1892 and remodeled in 1917 by a Methodist congregation that was organized about the first of the nineteenth century and worshipped at first in a log house. About 1832 a second church...the old building...was erected and used until the present building replaced it. The congregation was the largest Methodist congregation in the county at one time. **

Brunswick County Judgement 1817

Contributed by Barbara J. Browder

To the Court of Brunswick County in Chancery sitting — Humbly complaining sheweth to your worships your orators Alexander S. Feild alienee of John S. Field & Miles Wilson and Margaret his wife which said John S. Feild & Margaret are children of John and co-heirs of John S. Feild deceased — also your orator Hume R. Feild — devisee of James Feild of the County of Prince George.

That sometime in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and eighty eight, Dr. James Feild departed this life having previously executed his last will and testament whereby he devised his whole estate real and personal to his wife Margaret Feild and her heirs in trust and confidence that she would divide the same in such portions as she thought proper among her living children. That the said Margaret in pursuance of the said terms under the said will which was duly recorded in Prince George County Court, took the said real & personal estate into her possession subject to the execution of the trust above stated — That the children of the said James Feild at that time living, were John S. Feild, Alexander S. Feild, James Feild, Edmund Feild, Hume R. Feild, William Feild, Margaret Feild, Mary Feild and Dolly Feild. That sometime afterwards the said Margaret Feild widow of the said James Feild, to wit on the ninth day of August in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred, did in pursuance of the dower in her vested by the said will of her husband, execute a power — to John S. Feild, Alexr S. Field, Edmund Feild, James Feild & Hume R. Feild authorizing them to divide all the real and personal estate of her husband, in equal portions among themselves, the said William Feild, Margaret Feild, Mary Feild and Dolly Feild having relinquished their interest, in pursuance of a consideration offered them by Margaret Feild the elder —

That before the power given by the said Margaret Feild was carried into execution, John S. Feild departed this life, leaving two infant children to wit John S. Feild and Margaret Feild, which said Margaret has since intermarried with a certain Miles Wilson —

That sometime afterwards, the aforesaid parties, to wit Alexr. S. Feild, James, Edmund, Hume R. and James Feild Guardian of the said John S. Feild & Margaret Feild — did enter into an agreement in writing under their hands and seals to divide the property herein mentioned & in the manner therein expressed —

That this agreement has been fully carried into execution — except so far as relating to the Brunswick land — in which the interests of James Feild, Thomas R. Feild & John S. Feild & Margaret Feild were concerned — the said Edmund having received his share — Your orators further shew that by the agreement aforesaid — a copy of which is hereto annexed & prayed to be taken as part of this bill — It was stipulated between the parties that James Feild should enjoy in fee simple five hundred acres of the Brunswick land, to be laid off to him as convenient as possible to his present dwelling house and provided the upper line shall run above Tucker's Corner line, that Hume R. Feild shall enjoy in like manner six hundred acres of land (part of the Brunswick land) to be laid off at the upper part of the said Brunswick tract — if that quantity of acres can be procured [?] but if otherwise the balance thereof, at the most convenient place on the lower end. That the said John S. Feild and Margaret Feild should enjoy in like manner two hundred and forty acres of the said tract, lying on a creek or branch called the beaver pond to be laid off [f] without interfering with James Feild's tract — and it was further agreed upon between the aforesaid parties — except as to Edmund Feild — that provided the said Brunswick land should fall short of the quantity as estimated — that then the said parties shall contribute in equal proportions to those whose part shall so fall short and if the same should exceed the quantity as estimated — that then the same shall be if possible attached in the most convenient manner to those tracts to wit James Feild's, Hume R. Feild's & John S. Feild and Margaret Feild children of John S. Feild — which shall more immediately adjoin the aforesaid excess or surplus — payment to the party entitled to a share of the said excess a sum of money equal to the valuation of the said excess — which valuation was to be made by some disinterested person chosen by the general consent of the parties — That accordingly the said James Feild took possession of his part — the said Edmund Feild of the whole of his part to wit six hundred acres, and the said Hume R. Feild of all the upper part of the land, which when surveyed, amounted only to the quantity of five hundred and fifteen acres, leaving a balance due to him to be taken from the lower part of the said tract of eighty five acres, and the Guardian of the said John and Margaret of their part to wit the quantity of two hundred and forty acres — That the said tract at the time of the execution of the agreement was estimated to contain nineteen hundred and forty acres and by a late survey is discovered to contain two thousand and seventy five acres leaving an excess of one hundred and thirty five acres which said excess according to agreement is to be divided in three equal parts and attached to the shares of James Feild — John S. Feild and Margaret — and Hume R. Feild's share of eighty five acres agreeable to the spirit and intention of the said agreement — And your orators further shew that before the line to begin from Tucker's Corner line was run between the said James Feild and John S. Feild and Margaret Feild, or the eighty five acres were laid off to the said Hume R. Feild, that the said James Feild departed this life, having previously thereto executed and published his last will and testament by which he bequeathed all his interest in the said lands lying in Brunswick, to his two sons William Feild & Harrington Feild who at this time are infants under the age of twenty one years. And your orator Alexander Feild further shews that the said Margaret Feild & her husband Miles Wilson, and the said John S. Feild who are now of age have by their several deeds of Indenture and Bargain sold, transferred and aliend all their right, title and interest in the said Brunswick land to the said Alexander Feild and his heirs — which deed was dated the [blank] day of June one thousand eight hundred and [blank] and duly recorded in this Court.

But now so it is may it please your worships — that the said William Feild and Harrington Feild, being still infants, their guardian Thomas Feild refuses to permit the line to be run between them and the lands which your orator Alexander purchased of John S. Feild & Miles Wilson and Margaret his wife, also the line between the said Hume R. Feild & his lands, or to divide the said excess of 135 acres between them and the said Alexander S. Feild and Hume R. Feild. Wherefore your orators pray that the said William Feild and Harrington Feild may be made defendants to this bill, and by their guardian compelled to answer the same, and that Commissioners may be appointed to run the line as aforesaid, and to divide the excess as aforesaid according to the ~~[crossed out]~~ spirit and intention of the said agreement & will ever pray &c

[signed] Alexr. S. Feild
[signed] Hume R. Feild

Whereas Mrs. Margaret Feild, by a letter dated twenty-ninth day of August in the year of our Lord 1800 in pursuance of a power vested in her by the last Will & Testament of her husband Doct. James Feild, hath agreed that certain lands & Slaves, the right of which is devised to her through the said will, & which are to be here after particularly specified, that provided the undersigned parties are willing to divide the said property equally amongst them, she will bind hereself to ratify the same upon certain conditions which are particularly mentioned in the said letter — Now we the undersigned to wit; Alexander S. Field, James Feild, Edmund Feild, Hume R. Feild & Mrs. Jane Feild, on the part of Margaret Feild & John Feild, Co-heirs & representatives of John Feild dec'd, have mutually agreed to bind Ourselves Our Heirs Exors &c each to the other, in the penalty of four thousand dollars to abide by & stand to the subsequent division — to wit, that the said Alexander S. Feild & his heirs, shall enjoy in fee simple, free from distrubance, from any of the aforesaid parties five Hundred & Eighty Acres of land, lying in the County of Dinwiddie, to be laid off to him, agreeable to any election he may make, from the aforesaid tract, consisting of Seven Hundred & Eighty acres — & the following Negroes, to wit, Elizabeth & her children — That James Feild shall enjoy in manner & form aforesaid five Hundred Acres of land — part of the Brunswick Tract, to be laid off to him as convenient as possible to his present dwelling house — & provided the upper line shall not run above Tuckers corner line, together with the following Slaves, Susannah & all her children, except Lucretia —

That Edmund Feild shall enjoy in manner & form as aforesaid the land which was conveyed to him by Margaret Feild consisting of five Hundred Acres, together with one hundred acres which he has sold to Mrs. Wm. Short, the same being part of the said Brunswick tract, together with the following slaves, to wit, Polly & her Children & Maria — That Hume Feild shall enjoy in manner & form as aforesaid Six Hundred acres of land part of the tract aforesaid to be laid off at the upper part of the said land of that quantity if acres can be produced, but if otherwise, the balance thereof at the most convenient place on the lower end, together with the following slaves to wit, Armistead & Nancy — & that the said Jane Feild shall on behalf of the aforesaid Margaret Feild & John Feild as guardian of them enjoy in as ample a manner as a guardian may, to the use & behaff of the said Margaret & John upon the following land & slaves to wit, two Hundred & Forty acres on the Brunswick tract, lying on the beaver pond so that the same may be laid off without interfering with James Feild's tract — two Hundred acres lying on the Indian Swamp in the County of Prince George & the balance of the Dinwiddie tract consisting of two Hundred acres, together with the following Slaves, to wit, Polly & her child & Maria all of which slaves are descendants of Lucretia — & it is further agreed upon by the parties, that provided the said land upon a resurvey thereof, should fall short of the quantity, as estimated except as to Edmund Feild aforesaid — that then the parties shall contribute in equal proportion to those whose part all so shall fall short — & If the same should exceed the quantity as estimated, that then the same shall be if possible, attached in the most convenient manner to those tracts which shall most immediately Join the aforesaid excess or surplus — paying to the parties (according to a valuation to be made by any disinterested person, chosen by general consent[]) the amount of the sums which shall appear to be due in equal portions — That the expenses necessary for effectuating the same shall be paid equally by all parties. In witness whereof they have this day set their hands & affixed their seals —

Ages of Negro Children

Transcribed by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis

Editor's Note:

A notation was found among the Miscellaneous Papers of Pittsylvania County of an arithmetic book that contained a list of births. The arithmetic book was a handwritten book of arithmetic problems and the computations necessary to solve the problems. On the two back pages was a list of the Ages of Negro Children. There was no indication as to who had written the list, nor who, in fact, made up the problems or who owned the book. The names have been transcribed as written, and all of the names were written in the same handwriting.

BENJAMIN KING WHITE of Dinwiddie County

Submitted by Thomas D. White

Dinwiddie County Deed Book 6 1848-1850

- p. 214 18 July 1849 Francis B. Farley to Benjamin K. White and Rebecca A. S. White, his wife, and their child, George Randolph White, for the natural love and affection which the said Farley hath and beareth to the said Benjamin K. White and his wife, Rebecca A. S. White and their child, the said George Randolph White, and for the sum of $5.00 - a certain parcel of land in the county of Dinwiddie commencing at a holly bush adjoining Mrs. Randolph White's dower land and the land of Nathaniel Blick, running thence to the Halifax Road, thence southwardly to Edwin Lewis's* land, thence westwarly to Mrs. Jane Archer's dower land to the beginning, containing 121 acres, being the same land purchased by the said Francis B. Farley from the Commissioners appointed by Dinwiddie County Court to make sale of the real estate of the late Randolph White by deed of record in Dinwiddie County. The said Benjamin K. White and his wife and child shall use, occupy and enjoy the said land and take the rents and profits thereof to their own use and support during the minority of the said George Randolph White but if the said Benjamin K. White shall deem it best for the intent of his son, George Randolph White, to make sale of the land, he is hereby clothed with that power and from the proceeds of such sale to make such an investment as shall seem best for him, his wife and their son. After the arrival to full age of his said son, he, the said Benjamin K. White, is hereby authorized and required to make title in fee simple of the said land to his son, George Randolph White.

Francis B. Farley

* This appears to be Lewis although another deed shows it as Lucas (T.D.W.)

Comment: It is obvious that both sides of the family were very well pleased with their grandson, George Randolph White, who was named for his two grandfathers, viz: George W. Farley and Randolph White. (T.D.W.)

Legislative Petition

Legislative Petition, Buckingham County

Submitted by Lyndon H. Hart

Transcribed by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis

To the Hon'ble the speaker and the Gentlemen of the House of Delegates of Virginia

The petition of Mace Freeland and Spice Pendleton Humbly sheweth__ That the Estate of Robert Williams Decd. who was the natural son of James Freeland Decd who was the brother of your Petitioner by an Act of Assembly intitled an act to vest the Estate of Robert Williams equally among Mace Freeland, Spice Pendleton and Elizabeth Jones was so disposed of as to take from them one full third part thereof under a Deception practiced as well upon the General Assembly as upon them__ The Estate devised by your petrs Brothers James to the said Robert Williams was very considerable, and in order to avoid the loss of the whole of it one of your Petitioners were induced to consent to share it with the said Elizabeth Jones upon a false suggestion of her being with child by the said Robert Williams as well as under an engagement to be married to him__ Being ignorant of the Law and the consequences of contending for the Estate, as well as totally ignorant of certain Facts that have since come to their knowledge they Humbly presume to hope that their former acquiescence under the said Act so far as it respects the said Elizabeth will not now preclude them from the Justice of this Hon'ble House__ The Facts alluded to are the following sundry persons having made affidavits thereto viz. the said Elizabeth Jones in about five months after Williams's Death and before her marriage was delivered of a Bastard Son just after the Act aforesd. was passed, she had from her youth lived in the House of another person * where she was delivered and before after and during the Time of Williams's pretended courtship of her such barefaced indecencies were practised by the said person and the said Elizabeth as to leave no doubt of the criminal correspondence__ substituting between them and as little of the said Williams's not being the Father of the Child of which the said Elizabeth was delivered after the said Act of

* In each case where her relationship with "another person" is referred to, the name of that person has been eradicated and either "another person" or "person" has been inserted. This leaves one with an enormous curiosity as to who "the person" was!

Assembly was obtained and the child aforesaid was born the said Elizabeth continued to live with said person and after some time was married to him and he in her Right claims a considerable Estate in Lands Negroes and Chattels under the said act of Assembly which gave away from your Petrs. the Estate of their Brother James in part, and which act your Petrs. are confident never would have been passed had the Facts above alluded to been fully known__The Insanity of the said Robert Williams whilst it rendered him a proper object to work upon, and to cover the real designs carrying on, prevented his giving to your Petitioners his Estate__either by Will or Deed__and upon reflection your Petitioners think and are informed, that such his notorious Insanity is sufficient ground to set aside and totally destroy any supposition of a marriage engagement between the said Robert and the said Elizabeth__Because Engagements of that nature are only respected when made with persons of sound mind and are never suffered to be made the cover of prostitution and wickedness__If indeed such Engagement was attempted to be made your Petitioners are ready to shew the utter Incapacity of the said Williams to make such contract of any other of importance, and that the said Elizabeth Jones and the person were well acquainted with his distracted condition and that his pretended Courtship could be proper, only to serve as a cloak to other designs__Designs which your Petrs. confide they are now able to unfold in such a manner as to shew that the act aforesaid was obtained by Fraud and surprize, as well as the Ignorance of your Petitioners__

They therefore earnestly pray that an opportunity may be afforded them to prove the several Facts above alluded to, and this not to detract from the Characters of the _____^b said Elizabeth, or her husband but merely for the purpose of obtaining Justice to themselves by a Repeal in part of the Act aforesaid, and also obtaining the Right to the one third part of the said Williams's Estate claimed by the said husband in Right of his said wife under the said Act by which no fair purchaser will be injured and your Petitioners the only Uncle and Aunt and the next of Kin to the said Williams will be restored to a Right which the Legislature have in many Instances protected__and as is duty bound & (to do?)

Signed Mace Freeland

COMMENTARY

A Prince George County Record Book Comes Home!

by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis
Research Editor

In the spring of 1990 the clerk of the Prince George County Circuit Court received a very ordinary package in the mail. It was a small package as such things go, unprepossessing with its crumpled brown paper, and addressed in an unpretentious manner. The return address offered little in information, for it was a rubber stamped address and that was smeared. Since the size of the parcel was smaller than the record books found in the clerk's office, there was little to provide a clue as to its significance.

Removing the plain brown-paper wrapper revealed a well-worn, very old record book. It was entitled "Book B", which in itself was not very descriptive. Closer inspection gave the complete description of the contents: "Prince George County Deed Book, 1710-1713." It contained Deeds, Wills, Inventories and other such entries for the time period January 1710 to January 1713. This was a priceless find, as there were no records extant in Prince George County for that period of time. The book was incredibly well preserved, in one sense, given its great age, but very fragile in another sense.

As the story unfolded, it seems that the book had traveled to Ohio with one of the families that had succumbed to the lure of the western migration. It had evidently remained with some member of that family until the last owner died and the estate was to be settled. The book was given to the attorney who advised his client about the probation of that person's will. Even though the historic significance of the old record book was recognized, it was several years later before the book was sent on its way home.

It is interesting that there was a picture found in the pages of the book, by the clerk of the court in Prince George County, of a gentleman of the mid-1880s. This was possibly a member of the family who then possessed the book. This photograph was committed to microfilm and saved along with the priceless court records of the early 1700s.

Since Prince George County was formed from its parent county, Charles City, in 1702, and the record book is designated Book B, it seems plausible that the book is the second book of records for the young county. This adds appreciably to the information about the early residents of the area.

The Prince George County record book has been microfilmed and copies are available at the Virginia State Archives. The microfilm reference to request at the Virginia State Library is Prince George County Records, Reel 13. The original book, itself, is too fragile to be made available for use by the public. This writer has gazed upon its cover, leather bound, with the calf skin cured in the manner of the time, but has stood in awe of damaging the fragile contents until the book can be properly restored. It is not for perusal at this time!

Dr. Benjamin B. Weisiger, III has abstracted Book B, all 270 pages, and it will be published as an ongoing contribution in the Magazine of Virginia Genealogy of the Virginia Genealogical Society. The Southside Virginian will carry complete transcriptions of the wills found in Book B, also as an ongoing contribution. The first appears in this issue.

It is hoped that such a contribution to the early Virginia records will inspire the owners of old records to look through them. There may be hiding in an old trunk in someone's attic some other pieces of our Virginia heritage. Just this week a dealer of old books in Jamestown received some very early records belonging to Middlesex County. He recognized the importance of these documents and contacted the county officials about them. (Richmond Times Dispatch, February 13, 1991, pp B-1 & 6). It is truly exciting to find that these old records still exist, and are being returned to their county courthouses.

Will of Thomas Anderson of Prince George County

Transcribed by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis

In the name of God Amen; I Thomas Anderson of prince Geo. County and parish of Westopher, being sick and weak but of perfect sense and memory Thanks be to God for ye same do make and appoint and ordain This my Last will and Testament In manner and form, following hereby Nullifying and making Void all former Wills and testaments by mee maid, and declared and this onely to be taken for my Last will and Testament.

Firstly I Give and bequeath my Soul To God that gave It mee Hoping by the merits of my blessed Savior Jesus Chist to Inheritt Eternall Life and my body to ye Earth to be buried In such Desent maner, as my Exec. hereafter named shall thing is fitt.

Secondly I Give and bequeath the Plantation I now live on ffor and during her natural life and do give her to make use of any Firewood upon any part of my Land. For reparing the sd Plantation and too give to my loving wife Mary Anderson, The sd plantation and privilege and Liberty during my sons Charles his non age of the Increase of Hogs at the plantation Commonly called The Callactes (?) and after to keep hoggs upon The sd Land, during hir Natural Life except she marry and then not to keep hogs There and I Doo here Give unto my Loving wife hir Choyce of my Bed, with Boulster and blankets and yarset Rug Courtains and Vallins one pair of Sheets and to pillors. and one small feather bed and the choyce of my horses for hir own youse and and all my hogs Runing on the plantation I now live on.

Thirdly I Give and bequeath unto my son James Anderson my plantation I now live upon all the Land I hold adjoyning to the sd plantation and to his heires for Ever. after the decease of my Loving wife and fifty acres of Land next to Capt Taylors Cart path westwardly being part of the Callact Land and one Great Chest In the Inward room which of the To he pleases and the father Bead he Lyes upon and one Rugg and a pear of Blanketts and Sheets Boulster and pillow one Cutlis and Gunn one pot which his mother uses

Fourthly I Give and bequeath unto my Son Charles Anderson my first tract of land att the Callacts That is now leased and to his heires for Ever and one feather bead boulster and yarnset Rugg and Blanket and a pear of Sheets and too pillows and one Gunn formerly Wm Landers gun one Iron Pot and pot hooks Fifthly I Give and bequeath unto my daughter Mary Rees ^c forty hhd ^d Aging In Caske for hir one particular use after my Decease If she Lives and one Cow and Calf and one To year ould hefer To my Grandson Tho: Reese and one mare felley the irse that had be fallen of any of my mares after my Desease. To my said Daughter Mary Rees.

Sixly I Give and bequeath unto my Daughter Jane Anderson one Negro Girl named Hannah and hir first Child If the sd Negro have aney To my son Charles Anderson and the negro Hannah to Remain with my wife during ~~her~~ her my Wives Life, and I Give to my Daughter Jane one feather bed in the Trundle bedstead and The furniture belonging to it and I give my sd Daughter one Cow with Calf and a heffer ~~and~~ and of to yeres ould one Chist and one Silver Tumbler and one small iron pott and pot hooks and to pewter cups.

Seventhly My will and meaning Is That all my wearing clouse whatever that be maid for my use In my Life time Equally divided Between my to Sons James and Charles, and all my working Tools and Books Excepting Sundry (?) Moveables to be Equally divided between my sd Sons.

^c It is difficult to be certain of this name. It looks like Reed, later in the same paragraph the name of the grandson certainly appears to be Reese. The name of the daughter in the last sentence is not clear. It is Ree...the last letter does not ascend like a "d", but is made in a descending fashion more like an "s".

^d The word appears to have been written over or smudged. It seems it would logically be hhd, but it also appears to be Tbo. Since tobacco is usually measured by pounds or hogsheads and the word is not clearly discernible it is not certain what it is meant to be.

Eightly My will and meaning Is That all my Cattall Sheep and horses and what moveables so ever I have not disposed of in this my will shall be equally devided between My loveing wife and my two Sons by my Loveing freinds Wm Harrison Senr. and Jethro Darken (?) if they be liveing at my decease and if they or One of them be Dead at my decease then my loveing wife to make Choice of Such Other freind or freinds as Shee pleases to make the sd Devision soe that it leeds to ye full Sattisfaccon of my beloved wife and what goods may bee Lent mee Out of England for ye Tobo I have sent & what Debts I have due to mee att my decease to be equally devided between my sd wife and Sons.

Computer vs Typewriter

Machines are wonderful things. We build them to do all manner of tasks, but then we get mad when the results are not what we expect. A computer is a machine. It will only do what we tell it to do. It cannot think on its own. The output or printout from a computer is the direct result of the material put into it.

If you work with a word-processing program on your computer, I'm sure you have at one time or another happily put information into it and then pushed the appropriate keys to print out the information only to find that the printout bore no resemblance to what was intended. At this point you erupted into a tirade at the lowly machine which you had been told would "solve all your problems." Later, after much searching, you probably found out that the problem with the printout was a misplaced code somewhere in your file.

With a typewriter, on the other hand, its "what you see is what you get." Its a one shot proposition. If you don't like the way your document looks, you can always type it over. That's the beauty of the computer. The computer generated document can be changed infinitely until you get it just the way you want it, within the limitations of your program and printer.

So, the next time your computer printout doesn't look exactly the way you want remember, you could be typing it over again on your typewriter.

QUERY EDITOR'S COMMENT

It has come to our attention that many people requesting direct responses from individuals, publications, and associations frequently do not supply return envelopes or postage. It has been a custom for as long as we can remember to supply a self-addressed stamped envelope (SASE) along with ANY request for information. After all, we are requesting that someone go out of their way to provide us with a piece of information, of which we may be in great need. Many individuals and organizations will not even respond unless there is a SASE enclosed. Their usual action is to put your request on the "back burner" until some later time. We hope none of our readers are guilty of this oversight. We are all too aware of the increases in postage rates, but we feel that the inclusion of the proper return material is a small price to pay for what may be the piece of information you have been in search of for years.

EDITORIAL

Thank you. Your response has been overwhelmingly favorable to our new format and the direction we are taking with The Southside Virginian. We knew that there was tremendous interest in this area of Virginia and your response has been most gratifying. We appreciate very much your comments and suggestions.

Interest in the back issues of The Southside Virginian has been phenomenal. As a result, we have just reprinted Vol. I & II. This was a great effort as the originals to Vol. I, No. 2 had been destroyed, and we had to transcribe it from a copy. We have all issues in stock now and can fill orders without undue delay. Unfortunately, due to the small printing run, we must ask $40.00 per volume for Vols. I & II (four issues each). Volumes III through VIII remain $25.00 per volume, including postage.

As mentioned in the insert in the last issue, we are in the process of preparing a Table of Contents and Index for Volumes I through VIII. We shall provide pre-publication pricing as soon as possible. Your response to the announcement is exciting and we are moving along with this project.

We would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks to the many people who have submitted material for publication. This is one way we have of gauging our readers' response to The Southside Virginian. If you have submitted material and it has not yet been published, do not despair. As we have stated before, we are trying to balance the publication of information among all of the counties of the region. This may mean that some articles may appear in later issues to keep from having a "one county" issue. It does not mean that your material is not appreciated. By all means, keep sending your material. This is what provides us with the variety that we desire to maintain.

The next issue will be the last for the year and will contain subscription renewal information. There will also be a questionnaire included, which we hope you will return with your renewal. This questionnaire will help us mold the direction we are taking and allow us to judge what you would like in The Southside Virginian.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Cumberland County (NC) Genealogical Society is seeking descendants of the delegates to the Constitutional ratification convention held Nov. 21, 1789 at which North Carolina became the nation's twelfth state. The primary objective of the project is to encourage genealogical research by locating descendants and publishing their lineage, thereby making the records available to the public. For more information send a SASE to the Society, c/o Mrs. John D. Gillis, RT. 3, Box 478, Fayetteville, NC 28306 or phone: (919)867-5803.

East Carolina University offers new genealogy class for librarians. This is believed to be the nation's first genealogy course specifically designed for the professional librarian, says Dr. Donald Collins, ECU Dept. of Lib. and Inform. Studies, who will lead the 3 semester hour course. For more information about the July 1-19, 1991 course, contact Dr. Collins, Dept. of Library and Information Studies, East Carolina Univ., Greenville, NC 27858-4353.

Wilson/Willson Family Reunion — Descendants of John Wilson, Chesterfield County, 1606-1685, will hold a reunion on August 10th at the Tazewell County Fairgrounds, Tazewell, VA.

New books on North Carolina records now available. The following books have just been published and may be purchased from the author Dr. Stephen E. Bradley, Jr., PO Box 22, Keysville, VA 23947.

The Deeds of Tyrrell County North Carolina: 1735-1760 (1991) Indexed, 8½ x 11, soft cover, stapled, taped. $15. Personal names, slaves, geographical features, and place names are indexed.

The 1850 Federal Census, Bertie Countie, North Carolina: All Schedules (1991) Indexed, 8½ x 11, soft cover, stapled, taped. $17. All schedules are included. Indexes to the population, slave, and agriculture schedules are included.

The 1902 — 1908 Voter Registration Lists: Wilson County, North Carolina: All Schedules (1991) Indexed, 8½ x 11, soft cover, stapled, taped. $15. Beginning in 1902, voters had to prove literacy, or the name of an ancestor who had voted prior to 1867. These lists predate vital statistics in North Carolina.

The 1902 Voter Registration Lists: Halifax County, North Carolina: All Schedules (1991) Indexed, 8½ x 11, soft cover, stapled, taped. $14. See description immediately above.

Include $1.00 per item for shipping, VA residents add 4½% sales tax.

The Virginia Department of Historic Resources has announced that the following Southside landmarks have been entered on the National Register of Historic Places.

- "Paxton" in Powhatan County is a farm which was developed in 1820 and is substantially unaltered.

- Emmanuel Episcopal Church in Powhatan County is a Gothic revival style building constructed in the late 1830s.
- "Morven" in Cumberland County is a two-story brick home which was built in 1820. There is a schoolhouse on the grounds which dates to 1890.

BOOK REVIEWS

Sharon J. Doliante, Maryland and Virginia Colonials: Genealogies of Some Colonial Families, 1,313 pp, illustrated, indexed, cloth. 1991. $87.50. This book covers extensively the families of Bacon, Beall, Beasley, Cheney, Duckett, Dunbar, Ellyson, Elmore, Graves, Heydon, Howard, Jacob, Morris, Nuthall, Odell, Pearce, Reeder, Ridgley, Prather, Sprigg, Wesson and Williams, and their collateral kin. As the title states, the families treated originated in both Maryland and Virginia and later generations are traced in their southward migrations. This is a real contribution to researchers who have identified relationships of later generations along the migrations routes, but have been unable to trace their earlier ancestors. In addition to the traditional sources of information such as public records and printed materials; the author has had access to private papers, manuscripts and Bible records. It is especially helpful to have original documents transcribed and to have photographs of actual Bible records and such to "see for ones self". As with any work of this magnitude, however, one would want to verify inferences drawn about ones own family line before accepting as absolute conclusions concerning the early generations where information is scant. If the vital records of later generations are to be used for documentation, the sources should be documented individually. Mrs Doliante's book is well organized and well indexed, both characteristics necessary in pursuing individual interests in the book. It has certainly been a major research endeavor, for which the author is to be highly commended. It is a handsome book, a major contribution to both individual libraries as well as genealogical library collections. Genealogical Publishing Co., Inc. 1001 N. Calvert St. Baltimore, MD, 21202, Call 1(800)727-6687.

John Hale Stutesman, Some Watkins Families of Virginia and Their Kin: Abbott, Anderson, Bass, Clay, Cox, Farrar, Hancock, Hundley, Montague, Mosely, Randolph, Walthall, Woolridge. (1989), 588 pp., cloth, index, genealogical charts, $30 postpaid. Order from the compiler, 305 Spruce Street, San Francisco, CA, 94118. This book received an excellent review in The Virginia Genealogical Society Newsletter (Oct. 1989) and was announced in The Southside Virginian (Oct. 1989). This announcement did not give the complete title with the inclusion of the allied families. The book is unusually well documented from primary sources and should be considered by all of those who have an interest in the families presented. "Family histories of this calibre are all too rare" (VGS).

THE THWEATT CORRECTION

By Claiborne T. Smith, Jr.

The Prince George County Virginia Deed and Will Book, 1710-1713, that was recently returned to the county gives the will of Mary Thweatt, 1712. She mentioned sons: James, Henry and John; daughters, Elisabeth, Archer, Mary and Judith; and grandsons, James Thweatt, James Sturdivant, Edward Thweatt, Miles Thweatt, William (no surname), James Parram (Parham) and Mathew Parram. There were small legacies in the will to James Hall, son of Isaac Hall, Instant Hall and John Spain, Jr. These relationships to the testator are unknown to this writer, but John Spain, Jr. was appointed sole executor of Mary Thweatt's will.

The Mary Thweatt in question is the widow of James Thweatt (I) and the new information provided by her will requires a correction of certain assumptions made in the Thweatt article by this writer published in The Southside Virginian in Volume 7 Number 1, pp 19-34, (see especially p 21). James was obviously only married once and died between 1707, when he made a deposition at age 64 (see pp 19, 20), and the death of his widow, Mary. It was his son, James (II) (as many Thweatt researchers have always maintained), who married in 1701, Judith Soane, as a second marriage. The Thweatt grandsons in the will are likely all sons of James (II) who was born prior to 1666. His brothers Henry and John did not have families by 1713. The name of a daughter Archer would seem to strengthen the argument in the Thweatt article (Vol 7 No 1) that there was a special relationship between George Archer (II) and James Thweatt, both father and son. James Sturdivant, mentioned as a grandson in Mary's will, was the son of Daniel Sturdivant (see SSV Vol 5 No 3 p 129).

Historic Places

"Dinwiddie Home"

Submitted by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis

Location: 1½ miles south of Winfall, Virginia. Take the private road on the west side of Route #501. The house can be seen clearly from the highway.

Date: 1833.

Owners: A Mr. Trent is known to have owned the land before Samuel Cunningham became the owner in 1833.

John W. and Sarah Cunningham Dinwiddie [date unknown].

Sam Dinwiddie 1918 - 1938.

Description: The house is a rather large one and is well located. There are 227 acres of land in the farm, 90 acres are tillable. The following crops are raised; corn, wheat, potatoes, sorghum, hay and all sorts of vegetables; 137 acres are filled with oak and pine lumber. The "Little Seneca Creek" runs through the place.

Historical Significance:

This house, which has recently been remodelled [1936], was built by Samuel Cunningham and his wife. They removed to Campbell County from Prince Edward County and bought 227 acres of land from a Mr. Trent according to Mrs. Dinwiddie, and the place has been in the family since that time. The estate passed to John W. and Sarah Cunningham Dinwiddie by inheritance. In addition to raising corn, cotton, wheat and other farm products, Cunningham had a brickyard.

On one occasion the cotton which had recently been picked by the slaves was spread out on the floor to dry. The house cat was sleeping too near the fireplace and a spark ignited her fur. She ran through the cotton and set it afire, and considerable damage was done to both the cat and the cotton, but little damage, if any, was done to the house.

John Dinwiddie and Sarah Cunningham Dinwiddie are buried in the family graveyard on the place. Theirs are the oldest inscribed tombstones and read as follows:

Father

John W. Dinwiddie
born October 11, 1839
Married December 11, 1867
Died June 11, 1905.

Mother

Sarah E. Cunningham
Wife of J. W. Dinwiddie
Born September 11, 1844
Died November 4, 1918.

Sources of Information:

Informant: Mrs. Samuel E. Dinwiddie, Winfall, Virginia, [1936].

Will Abstracts

Loose Wills of Prince George County before 1865

Abstracted by Anne Bradbury Peebles

During the War Between the States in the summer of 1864, the courthouse at Prince George was burned, and along with it most of the early records of the county court. Some individuals, who resided in the county and knew of the disaster, brought their copies of some of these vital records to the courthouse to be recorded. Anne Bradbury Peebles went through the packets of loose papers and abstracted and indexed these wills, marriage bonds and other papers so that the information would be available to the public. She listed those wills and marriage bonds for the years before 1865, noting that only one will predated 1800.

LEGISLATIVE PETITION, 1816

Submitted by J. C. Kolbe

Transcribed by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis

To the Honorable the Speaker and members of both houses of the General Assembly of Virginia.

The humble petition of Thomas Gill of the county of Nansemond, respectfully sheweth.

That sometime on or about the 20th day of July... in the year 1816 your petitioner intermarried with a certain Sarah Paddleford, who was the sister of his former wife. That he was married in the county of Nansemond, by a minister of the Gospel, and under the authority of a License regularly obtained from the Clerk's office of the said county.

That your petitioner is an unlettered man, has little intercourse with the world, and had no intimation from any source whatever, that there was any legal impediment to his marriage, that had a doubt even been expressed, that he was about to violate a law of his country, and thereby bring down sorrow and trouble upon him in the evening of his life, there was no consideration which could have induced him to form such a connexion.

Your petitioner further represents that he contracted marriage at the age of fifty four years, and his union continued to be a source of uninterrupted happiness, until a public prosecution was commenced against him in the Superior Court of Law for the county of Nansemond, under the provisions contained in an Act of the General Assembly, passed at their last session.

That since the period of time last aforesaid, your petitioner has been rendered miserable at the thoughts of a separation from the partner of his affections, and he has now no hope for a restoration of happiness in this life, but through the intercession of the Legislature of his country.

Your petitioner

Old Buffalo Church and Cemetery

Transcribed by S. Kathryn Hooper and Christopher M. Hooper

Formerly known as Buffalo Church.

Location: 5 miles south of Prospect, Virginia, on Route #133; thence west on Route #658 1 mile; thence south on Route #659 0.4 mile. Church is on the west side of road. [1937]

Date: About 1826.

Owners: The land was owned in 1808 by George Booker. The next owners were William Baldwin, Nathaniel Price, and Daniel Baldwin and then the Trustees of Buffalo Church.

Description: The church is located in a grove of oaks and other trees. It is a rectangular-shaped, frame building, one story high, with a class room on each side of the front entrance, and a pulpit built in square shape at the back. The interior is large and well lighted with large windows on each side and at the back. There is a row of long pews in the center, and shorter ones on each side.

Historical Significance:

This is the first church that was organized in Prince Edward County.

Reverend John Thompson is the first minister we have any record of preaching in the Buffalo community. He preached there in 1739 in a private home. The first church was built about 1759, but on a different site from the present church. Mr. Thompson came from Ireland in 1715, but preached in Delaware and Pennsylvania before locating permanently in Virginia.

Richard Sankey was the next pastor. He married Sarah Thompson, daughter of Rev. John Thompson. His name is the first one signed to the famous petition of 1776 for religious liberty, and he probably wrote it.

In 1793 Mathew Lyle of Lexington, Virginia, was elected pastor, and he continued in charge until his death in 1827.

On April 5, 1831, Rev. Isaac Cochran began his long and memorable pastorate which lasted until 1873. He also preached at Bethlehem until 1843.

After 1873 there were quite a number of ministers, some just supplying, and others serving for several years.

Cemetery:

The cemetery covers about one acre or more, enclosed with a plain fence with one large gate. There are several hundred graves with the earliest marked date of 1818. The following is a listing of the ones prior to 1860.

George Randolph White of Dinwiddie County

Submitted by Thomas D. White

George Randolph White (Son of Benjamin K. White, Grandson of Randolph White — T.D.W.)

The obituary of George Randolph White has been located in Petersburg, Virginia. According to the date of the newspaper as compared to the birth dates of his children, he died when they were all quite young; he, himself, being only 36 years of age.

"Mr. George W. White died very suddenly Sunday afternoon at his residence in Dinwiddie. Mr. White was a successful gardner and was about 35 or 40 years of age. He was, during the War, a member of the Twelfth Regiment Band."

Petersburg Index-Appeal — 8 January 1877

Note that the middle initial is incorrectly given. (T.D.W.)

Died.

"White. At his residence in Dinwiddie County, on the 7th of January, Geo. R. White, aged 36 years. He left a wife and five small children and numerous other friends and relatives to mourn his early loss. He was a kind husband and affectionate father. He was courteous, popular, and jovial, always striving to make those around him happy. We shall miss him sadly — the light of his happy face will no more shine on us, and may we so imitate his virtues that when the summons shall call us, we may, like him, rest in peace. Sleep on, dear George: though I feel sad and lonely now, I will meet you in the sweet bye and bye."

Petersburg Index-Appeal — March 1877

Victoria Dallas White (Wife of George Randolph White)

George Randolph White married Victoria Dallas Turner. Her obituary appeared in a Petersburg Newspaper as follows:

"Mrs. Victoria Dallas White, wife of the late George R. White, died this morning at 1 o'clock at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Charles H. Steere, No.505 Halifax Street, after a long illness. Mrs. White was in the 69th year of her age and was a member of Wesley M. E. Church; also a teacher in the Sunday School. Deceased was widely known and beloved by all who knew her. Mrs. White is survived by two sons and three daughters - Messrs. Winston W. and Walter L. White of Baltimore, Md. and Mrs. O. E. Perkins, Mrs. W. B. Reade and Mrs. Charles H. Steere, and one sister, Mrs. A. R. Hargrave, of this city. The funeral notice appears in another column."

Petersburg Progress Index — 9 February 1913

"Funeral Late Mrs. V. D. White

The funeral of the late Mrs. Victoria Dallas White took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from Wesley M. E. Church, the pastor, Rev. W. T. A. Haynes, officiated, assisted by the Rev. F. W. Moore, of Second Baptist Church. The following gentlemen were pall-bearers:

ACTIVE - Messrs. E. A. Perkins, J. C. Webb, G. E. Hawks, R. E. Butler, Walter Lanier, Alex Mayer."

COMMENTARY

Legal Terms Relevant to Research

by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis
Research Editor

It has been suggested that an explanation of some of the terms found in court records of the colonial period may be helpful to family record searchers. Many of these will be readily defined by the reader, but some may provide additional information that will enable the researcher to better interpret records.

administrator	The person appointed by the court to take charge of the business of, to settle, and distribute the estate of a decedent.
annexed	Administration with the will annexed. Administration granted in cases where a testator makes a will, without naming any executors; or where the executors, who are named in the will are incompetent to act, or refuse to act; or in the case of the death of the executors.
attachment of estate	It should be noted that an entry in the court records stating that an individual's estate has been attached, does not necessarily mean that person is deceased, but only that his estate is liable for a legal debt.
coverture	the statue of a married woman
de bonis non (administratis)	Of the goods not administered. When an administrator is appointed to succeed another, who has left the estate partially unsettled, he is said to be granted " administration de bonis non "; that is, of the goods not already administered.
decessit sine prole (d. s. p.)	Dying without issue, at common law this phrase imports an indefinite failure of issue, and not a dying without issue surviving at the time of the death of the person and is generally taken in this meaning.
deed indented	A deed executed between two or more parties, and distinguished by having the edge of the paper or parchment on which it is written indented or cut at the top in a particular manner. This was originally done at the top or side, in a line resembling the teeth of a saw, or in a scalloped pattern.

deed of gift	A deed executed and delivered without consideration.
deed of release	One releasing property from the incumbrance of a mortgage or similar pledge upon payment or performance of the conditions.
deed of trust	An instrument in use in many states, taking the place and serving the uses of a common-law mortgage, by which the legal title to real property is placed in one or more trustees, to secure the repayment of a sum of money or the performance of other conditions.
dock the entail	To free an estate from the limitations imposed by an entail and permit its free disposition; anciently by means of a fine or common recovery, but now by deed in which the tenant and next heir join. (See entail and fee tail) dower	The provision which the law made for a widow out of the lands or tenements of her husband, for her support and the nurture of her children. Dower is the life estate to which every married woman is entitled on death of her husband, intestate, or, in case she dissents from his will, one-third in value of all lands of which husband was beneficially seized in law or in fact at any time during coverture.
dower by common law	The ordinary kind of dower in English and American law, consisting of a life interest in one-third of the lands of which the husband was seized in fee at any time during the coverture.
dowry	The property which a woman brings to her husband in marriage.
entail	An estate tail abridged or limited to the issue, or certain classes of issue, instead of descending to all of the heirs.
estate	The interest which any one has in lands, or in any other subject of property. Estate is used in conveyances in connection with the words "right" "title" and "interest" and is, in a great degree, synonymous with all of them. Referred frequently to the property of the deceased.

estray	Cattle (or other animals) whose owner is unknown. An animal that has escaped from its owner, and wanders or strays about; usually defined by common law as a wandering animal whose owner is unknown.
executor	A person appointed by a testator to carry out the directions and requests in his will, and to dispose of the property according to his testamentary provisions after his decease. One named in will as executor is an "executor" even before probate of will.
fee simple	An estate limited absolutely to a man and his heirs and assigns forever without limitation or condition.
fee tail	A freehold estate in which there is a fixed line of inheritable succession limited to the issue of the body of the grantee or devisee, and in which the regular and general succession of heirs at law is cut off.
feme sole	A single woman, including those who have been married, but whose marriage has been dissolved by death or divorce; those women who are judicially separated from their husbands, identified as feme sole in legal documents.
hereditaments	Things capable of being inherited, be it corporeal, real, personal, or mixed, and including not only lands and everything thereon, but also heirlooms, and certain furniture which, by custom, may descend to the heir together with the land.
heretrix	A female heir.
imprimis	In the first place.
infant	A person within age, not of age, or not of full age; a person under the age of twenty-one years; a minor.
inheritance	An estate in things real, descending to the heir. An estate or property which a man has by descent, as heir to another, or which he may transmit to another, as his heir.
intestate	Without making a will. A person is said to die intestate when he dies without making a will, or dies without leaving anything to testify what his wishes were with respect to the disposal of his property after his death.

next friend

One acting for benefit of infant, married woman, or other person not sui juris (not possessing full social or civil rights) without being regularly appointed guardian. One admitted to court to prosecute for infant (as legally defined).

nuncupative will

An oral will declared or dictated by the testator in his last sickness before a sufficient number of witnesses, and afterward reduced to writing.

pars enitia

The privilege or portion of the eldest daughter in the partition of lands by lot.

primogeniture

The state of being the first-born among several children of the same parents; seniority by birth in the same family. The superior or exclusive right possessed by the eldest son, and particularly, his right to succeed to the estate of his ancestor, in right of his seniority by birth, to the exclusion of younger sons.

testate

One who makes or has made a testament or will; one who dies leaving a will.

tail

The limitation on the inheritance of an estate.

viz.

A contraction for videlicet: to wit, namely, that is to say.

Preparing Your Material for Publication

So you have now traced your family's history back to some point in the past and have decided to publish those years of work in a volume to be preserved for your children and grandchildren. Where do you begin!!

First, you must decide whether there is interest within your family for assisting in the publication costs. Very few family histories will have the requisite interest to attract a publisher, so you will be left to finance the typesetting and printing on your own. If you have a large family and a lot of interest, you may be able to solicit the necessary funding from them.

Once you have the interest generated, you must determine the quantity to be printed. This is one of the hardest steps to accomplish accurately. The number printed obviously affects the final cost, but remember that the typesetting and pre-publication costs are the same if you print one or a thousand. The more you have printed, the less each one costs. Two books may cost $600 each while 100 books may cost only $25 each.

If you are having fewer than ten books printed, it is best not to get too fancy. Have your typed manuscript copied on good photocopy equipment, and it can be hard bound if you desire. If your information is on computer, you can take the files to a good computer services company that deals with genealogical publication. They can format it and print it on a quality printer for reproduction. This should be fairly inexpensive and is generally calculated on a per finished page basis.

If you need more than ten books, you should definitely deal with a service company. If your information is not on computer, they can typeset it from your manuscript. They can also arrange the printing and binding for you. The more work you can do yourself, the less expensive will be the final cost. If you have a computer and use a program which the service company can import, you can prepare the file in such a way as to make their job much easier. By all means, contact some of these companies to find out their requirements before you enter it in the computer. Sometimes the less formatting you do with your computer the better.

No matter how you do it, preserve your work. Whether it is just a single bound volume which you leave to a local genealogical/historical society or a large scale production which is provided to every member of your family, the important thing is to do it.

QUERIES

Notice to subscribers. Queries may request explicit information on individuals who should be identified by place name (county or town) and by date (year only). We will attempt to print the queries as received without editing, if possible, so please keep them as concise as possible. Lengthy queries will be edited due to space requirements. If you wish to exchange information on a specific surname or group of people with similar names, simply begin your query with "Exchange" and follow with the family names of interest. Queries are only accepted for active subscribers at the time the query is received. Queries are printed in the order in which they are received and on a space available basis. Multiple queries from the same individual may appear in separate issues. Please PRINT or TYPE your queries to make sure that the information published is precise and names and addresses are correct so that you can receive the answers you wish without delay.

EDITORIAL

The delivery of this issue completes our ninth year of publication and the first under new ownership. It has been an exciting and rewarding year and we are looking forward to many more.

Your subscription renewal notice for 1992 is enclosed with this issue along with a subscriber questionnaire. Our 1992 subscription rate will remain $20.00 even though there have been substantial postal and printing increases in the past four years. We have been able to avoid an increase because of our policy of using bulk mail instead of regular mail to ship issues to late year subscribers. We want to thank our late year subscribers for their patience. We realize it is not fun to wait until the next regular mailing for your subscription to begin, but all of The Southside Virginian subscribers are benefiting from this policy.

Please take a few minutes to complete the renewal form and questionnaire and return them in the enclosed envelope. In order to continue to receive your magazine without interruption, we must have your renewal prior to January 1, 1992. The questionnaire will provide us with the essential information necessary to guide us in the coming years and will enable you to be a part of our planning. Also, remember that you can make a "Gift Subscription" to your favorite library or non-profit genealogical/historical society. These gifts would be tax-deductible to you and would really be appreciated by the recipient.

The Southside Virginian has some interesting articles planned for the coming year. We will continue to present complete transcriptions of wills from Book B, Prince George County, 1710-1713, and two articles by noted author, Dr. Benjamin B. Weisiger, III, are planned. Articles continued from this year will be "Loose Wills of Prince George County before 1865" and "Prince George Marriage Bonds, 1816-1824."

You will note in the subscription renewal that we have announced the pre-publication of the Index and Table of Contents to Vols I - VIII, approx. 250 pp., 8½ x 11, soft cover. The cost of this book is $19.95 plus $3.50 shipping, until Dec. 1, 1991. After that, the price will be $24.50 plus $3.50 shipping. Virginia residents must add 4.5% sales tax. This will be a fine addition to your own reference library and will make a great gift to your local genealogical library or society. Here in one book is the list of all articles appearing in Vols I - VIII of The Southside Virginian (over 250 individual listings with author and counties concerned) and the indexes of those volumes.

There are additional pages of queries included in this issue. The numbers of queries we are receiving have been phenomenal. Our goal is, of course, to serve you, but please be considerate of the other subscribers. Were we to print all of the queries we receive for each issue, we would have no room to print genealogical or historical information. Please see the QUERIES section for our new policy.

Thanks again for a great year. Join us next year for our 10th year of publication.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

TIDEWATER VIRGINIA FAMILIES, by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis has received an Honorable Mention Award from the Anna Ford Family Book Contest, sponsored by the Heart of America Genealogical Society of Kansas City, Missouri. The book chronicles the origins and lives of some forty early Virginia families, many of whose descendants migrated to the Southside Virginia counties. The book can be ordered through the Genealogical Publishing Company, (800) 727-6687.

Announcing publication of the following genealogical quarterly newsletters: Southern GLENN Gleanings, SATTERWHITE Searches, JERNIGAN Journal, COSTELLO Cousins, and KELLEHER Kin. All newsletters are $16 yearly, or $3 for a sample first issue, payable to Josephine Crittenberger-Nall, 47 Evergreen Dr, Willingboro, NJ 08046.

"The Family Records" — Family Bibles and family registers are frequently the only source of birth and death records prior to 1853, when Virginia began recording vital statistics, and during the years 1896 through 1912, when Virginia did not require the registration of births and deaths. The growth of the Virginia State Library and Archives collection of photocopies of Bible records is dependent upon private individuals submitting records for duplication. The brochure "The Family Records" describes how to accomplish this process. For more information, contact Mr. Chris Kolbe, Archivist, at (804) 786-2306.

A Southside Publication which may be ordered from Miss Harriett A. Chilton, 3108 Annandale Rd., Falls Church, VA. 22042, is Petitions To Form Appomattox County, VA. From Buckingham, Campbell, Charlotte & Prince Edward Counties, 1825-1845. The book lists over 2000 names of residents of the four counties from which Appomattox was formed. It provides an 1845 map of the new county, description of boundaries & the legislative act establishing the county. 78 pp, 8½ x 11, photos, (1989). Price is $20 plus $1.50 postage.

BOOK REVIEWS

J. D. Segal, Owner Unknown, 122 pp, Appendices, charts, indexed, cloth. 1991. $17.95. Everyone dreams of some unexpected windfall. While this book introduces one to a journey requiring creative instincts, organizational skills, patience and perseverance, it may also open the door to a new source of income. While the author suggests a knowledge of genealogy and local events, both past and present, is helpful, it is not necessary. What's at stake are parcels of untitled, untaxed land, of unknown ownership that may be waiting for the identification (and acquisition). The author does not promise a get-rich-quick formula, he does set down the ways and means of identifying this land and going about securing it. It is presented by a genealogical publishing company because the same skills that are required to identify and search for ancestors are required for this search for land in which the owner is not known. By the same token, the book is very useful to genealogical researchers in the technical information and the resources that are presented, that may be used to advantage in searching ancestors. The book provides a step-by-step guide to identifying owner unknown land and to securing the land for resale or investment purposes. With the aid of public records, particularly tax records, deeds and probate files, previous owners, the last known owner and heirs may be identified, and deeds to the tract of land in question acquired. It is written in a light hearted but professional manner and is interesting reading. Who knows where the reading may lead? Genealogical Publishing Co. 1001 N. Calvert St. Baltimore, MD 21202, Call (800) 727-6687.

Mary Louise M. Hutton, Seventeenth Century Colonial Ancestors, 468 pp total, indexed, cloth, (1976,1981,1988) consolidated edition 1991. $30.00. This book presents a listing of the colonial ancestors of members of The National Society of Colonial Dames XVII Century, 1915-1975, with supplements that bring the listing up to 1988 (13,000 individuals). The requirements for this hereditary society since 1942 have been such that one must claim proven descent from a colonial ancestor living in one of the colonies in the seventeenth century. The book also lists colonial ancestors in the colonies up until 1775 for those whose membership predates 1942. Each entry gives the name of the colonial ancestor, his dates of birth and death, if known, and the name of his wife, if known. It also gives his colony of residence and his service to the colony. It is a good source book for anyone searching for early colonial ties. The compiler is not responsible for the research which went into identifying these early ancestors, nor can this reviewer vouch for the data. The listing presents names, relationships and dates that are valuable in supplying a starting point for further research. In some cases information has subsequently come to light that invalidates earlier findings, in other cases direction is provided for further research. Genealogical Publishing Co. 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21202. (800) 727-6687.

Anne Lowry Worrell, Over the Mountain Men, Their Early Court Records in Southwest Virginia, 69 pp., wrappers, (1934), reissued 1991. $6.00. This book is of interest to The Southside Virginian readers, for it deals with records of two Southside Virginia counties, Bedford and Franklin, as well as nearby counties of Botetourt, Carroll, Floyd, Grayson, Montgomery, Pulaski and Roanoke. The records are of marriages, wills, Revolutionary War petitions and gravestone inscriptions. The dates of the records vary by county, but most of them are from the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries. In all, the records concern some 9000 persons and are arranged alphabetically by record group and by county. While the book is not large, there is a lot of information. The listings for the marriages give the names of the groom, bride, surety or minister and exact date of marriage bond or minister's return. The will abstracts give the name of the testator, date of probate, and names of heirs with relationships as stated. Genealogical Publishing Co. 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21202. (800) 727-6687.

William Goode et al. vs. Thomas Bass's Executors

To the Worshipful court of Chesterfield County sitting in Chancery:

Humbly complaining shew unto the court, your complainants William Goode admr of Phebe Goode his late wife deceased, who was a daughter and legatee of Thomas Bass deceased — Elizabeth Bass also a daughter & legatee of the said Thomas Bass deceased — Freeman Moore and Sarah his wife formerly Moody, John Stringer and Rebecca his wife formerly Moody, Joseph Bass and Anne his wife formerly Moody, George Moody and John Moody, which said Sarah, Rebecca, Anne, George and John ~~are~~ as children of Mary Moody deceased who was a daughter of Thomas Bass deceased are legatees of the said Tho. Bass deceased — Archer Bass and Judith his wife, formerly Gates, Sarah Gates and James Gates in proper person, and Thomas Gates and John Gates infants of tender years by Wm. Goode their next friend, which said Judith, Sarah, James, Thomas and John Gates ~~are~~ as children of Sarah Gates deceased who was a daughter of Thomas Bass deceased, ~~and~~ are legatees of the said Thomas Bass deceased — James Gates and Judith his wife formerly Forsee, Jabez Rucks and Ami his wife formerly Forsee, Elizabeth Forsee, William Forsee, John Forsee and Jane Forsee, in proper person, and Mary Forsee an infant of tender years by Jabez Rucks her next friend, which said Judith, Anne, Elizabeth, William, John, Jane and Mary Forsee ~~are~~ as children of Judith Forsee deceased who was a daughter of Thomas Bass deceased, ~~and~~ are legatees of Thomas Bass deceased — and Thomas A Bass and Archad W. Bass who ~~are~~ as children of Archad Bass deceased who was a son of Thomas Bass deceased, ~~and~~ are legatees of the said Thomas Bass deceased, infants of tender years by William Trabue their guardian.

That in the year...[blank]...Thomas Bass the elder late of Chesterfield county departed this life having first duly made his last will and testament, since duly proved and recorded in the court of ~~Chesterfield~~ the county aforesaid, hereof an authenticate copy is herewith exhibited, and prayed to be taken as part of this your complainants' bill.

That the testator's sons Thomas Bass, John Bass and Wm. Bass, three of the executors in the said will named and appointed, (the other son named as exor, Edward Bass, having died before the testator) duly qualified as exors of the said will, and took upon themselves the burthen of the execution thereof.

That among sundry other bequests and devises in the said will contained, there is the following general residuary clause, that is to say "It is my will and desire that the remaining part of my slaves not herein before willed away, together with my stock of every kind, household and kitchen furniture, plantation utensils, crop on hand, likewise & every other species of property belonging to me, be divided into eleven parts — one eleventh part of which I will to each of my children, viz. Thomas, Edward, John, William, Elizabeth, Susannah, and Phobe — also one eleventh part to the children of each of my ~~[strikethrough]~~ deceased daughters, viz. Sarah Gates, Judith Forsee and Mary Moody — and the remaining eleventh part to the children of my deceased son Archad Bass — to them & their heirs severally forever." [See Note 1]

That the said testator's son Edward Bass, in the said recited clause of the said will mentioned, died before the testator; and therefore, the said eleventh part of the said residuum, that was bequeathed to the said Edward, became a lapsed legacy; but it is submitted, that that eleventh part is no where disposed of by the said will of the said testator; that as to the same, he must be considered as having died intestate, & that the same must, therefore, be distributed among the distributees general of the said testator, of whom the representative of Edward Bass is one, which ~~[strikethrough]~~ representative is Judith Bass widow & admrx of the said Edward: and there being ten sets of distributees besides, the said admr will be entitled to one eleventh part of the said eleventh part of the estate.

That Frances Moody, one of the children of Mary Moody the testators daughter in the said recited clause of the said will mentioned, hath departed this life ~~before~~ (since the death of the said testator) of full age, unmarried, childless and intestate; so that her share of the eleventh part of the said residuum left the children of Mary Moody by the said will, devolves ~~[strikethrough]~~ to her brothers and sisters, your complainants children of the said Mary Moody.

That Wm Gates one of the children of Sarah Gates the testator's daughter in the said recited clause of the said testator's will mentioned, hath departed this life (since the death of the said testator) of full age, unmarried, childless and intestate; neither is there any administration of his estate; but the said Wm Gates in his lifetime ~~being~~ received a part of his proportion of the said residuary estate of the said testator: as to the balance of his proportion, therefore, it is now distributable among his brothers and sisters, your complainants children of Sarah Gates deceased.

That upon the whole, your complainants submit to this worshipful court, that the said residuum of the said testator's estate is now divisible into eleven parts; whereof one eleventh belongs, in virtue of the said recited clause of the said testator's will, to your complainant Wm Goode admr of Phobe Goode his late wife; one other eleventh, to your complainant Elizabeth Purdie; one other eleventh, to your complainant Susannah Bass; one other eleventh, to your complainants, the [~~striketrough~~] surviving children of Mary Moody, formerly Bass, deceased; one other eleventh, to your complainants, the surviving children of Sarah Gates, formerly Bass, deceased, allowing the exors a credit for so much as they have paid the deceased Wm Gates; one other eleventh, to your complainants, the children of Judith Forsee, formerly Bass, deceased; one other eleventh to the exor Thomas Bass; one other eleventh, to the exor John Bass; one other eleventh to the exor Wm Bass; and as to the remaining eleventh, which the testator designated for his son Edward Bass, which lapsed by ~~his~~ the death of that legatee, [~~striketrough~~] and as to which it is submitted the said testator died intestate, that is distributable into eleven parts, whereof each of the sets of residuary legatees above mentioned are entitled to one eleventh; and Judith Bass admrx of Edward Bass deceased is entitled to the remaining eleventh.

That the said exors have proceeded to collect and dispose of the said residuum according to law, as far as it has been practicable, tho' there are some claims yet in suit and in doubt; and that the debts of the testator, so far as they are known, your complts are informed have been already discharged: and it is now for the interest of all parties concerned that the accounts of the exors should be fairly adjusted, and the residuary estate aforesaid, so far as it [~~striketrough~~] has come to [~~striketrough~~] the hands of the exors should be divided according to the will of the said testator, and [~~striketrough~~] law — and that must be, as your complainants are advised, according to the principles herein above suggested.

In tender consideration of the premises, and because your complts [~~illegible~~] therein without [~~illegible~~] of this county [~~illegible~~] therefore, that the said Thomas Bass, Wm Bass and John Bass as exors of Thomas Bass their father deceased, and as legatees of their said testator, together with the said Judith Bass, admrx of Edward Bass deceased, may be made defendants hereto, and may true full and perfect answer make to all and singular the allegations of this bill — that the said exors may render an account of their administration of their testator's ~~effects~~ estate, and of the residuary estate in their hands, before commissioners to be appointed by this court — ~~and~~ that the said residuary estate may be divided among the legatees and distributees severally thereunto entitled, according to the equitable principles above suggested — and that the court may do in the premises what else to equity shall seem meet; may it please the court to grant your complainants, the commonwealth's writ of Subpoena [torn]

Note 1: A copy of the will of Thomas Bass indicates the following bequests:

"to my two grand children, Thomas Anderson Bass and Archad William Bass, sons of his late son, Archad Bass, decd., the track of land whereon I now live, containing one hundred and sixty acres, more or less... to my son, Thomas Bass one negro man, named Bob... to my son, Edward Bass, one negro woman named Dolly & child named Polly, also one negro woman named Moll... to my son, John Bass, one negro man named Sam... to my son, William Bass one negro woman named Cate & child named Peter... to my daughter Elizabeth Purdie, one negro girl named Rachael... remaining estate to be divided into eleven parts....", Ed.

The will was proven by the oaths of Robert Mosely and James Gates and recorded in Chesterfield County on December 10, 1804.

The decision of the Chesterfield County Court was handed down on November 10, 1812, after examining the accounts of the Executors of the estate of Thomas Bass, decd. There was left, in the hands of the Executors, $2420, to be divided in eleven parts, with each share receiving $220, plus $20, which equaled the divided share of Edward Bass, with the widow of Edward Bass receiving $20. The decree was signed by H. W. Watkins, Benjn. Goode, Edwd. Bass and Robert Haskins.

Note 2: This list was found among the Loose Papers of Chesterfield County. The names have been transcribed as they were listed on the sheet of paper. The notations after the names were made in a different handwriting. No dates appeared on the sheet of paper, however it is assumed that the list was drawn up when the suit was entered in the Chancery Court. It does tend to clarify the relationships of the children of Thomas Bass, and to locate some of them as to the county in which they must have been living at the time of the suit, Ed.

Prince George County

Will Abstracts

Loose Wills of Prince George County before 1865

Abstracted by Anne Bradbury Peebles

During the War Between the States in the summer of 1864, the courthouse at Prince George was burned, and along with it most of the early records of the county court. Some individuals, who resided in the county and knew of the disaster, brought their copies of some of these vital records to the courthouse to be recorded. Anne Bradbury Peebles went through the packets of loose papers and abstracted and indexed these wills, marriage bonds and other papers so that the information would be available to the public. She listed those wills and marriage bonds for the years before 1865, noting that only one will predated 1800.

1847, 12 Aug. Probate of the will of Thomas Warthen. Dated 1 April, 1847. Land to be equally divided between my four children. Son William, Daughter Elizabeth Brockwell, Daughter Mary Warthen, Son John.

Elon Baptist Church

Transcribed by S. Kathryn Hooper

Prior to 1859 known as "Meeting House"

Location: Pamplin, Virginia

Date: About 1859.

Owners: Church Members.

Description: The building is a frame structure weatherboarded. The front is very pretty with four large columns supporting front and center. Two small vestibules on either side, which form the sides, make an alcove in front. To enter, doors open into the two small vestibules with swinging doors into the main auditorium. This room is very high pitched and ceiled with beaded ceiling, it also has a wainscoting thirty inches high. New pews have replaced the old hand made ones used so long. The pulpit was raised about two feet a few years ago and Sunday School rooms were added in the rear. This is a two-story addition consisting of nine small rooms. The building now used is part of the old meeting house, but has been enlarged and many improvements made. For years this was the only house of worship in the village and was used by all denominations.

Historical Significance:

This church is very proud of its record having sent out several young men to preach. Among them, one of the best known Baptist preachers in this country, Dr. James H. Franklin who was for years secretary of the foreign Mission Board of the Northern Baptist Church. Today he is President of Crozier Seminary, Chester, Pennsylvania (1937). According to entries made in an old time worn record book, the following information relating to the origin of the church is quoted in the exact language of the record: "According to previous notice, a meeting was held in the meeting house at this place April 3rd, 1859 to consider the propriety of constituting a church here, Pamplin Depot. Present here as Presbytery Elders, E. W. Roach, J. H. Cawthorn and J. S. Mason, Clerk. An invitation was extended to all Baptists to take seat with us and freely express their sentiments with regard to the propriety of constituting a church. On motion the question was taken and the meeting give a unanlmus [sic] vote in favor of organizing a church at this time."

A month after this date of organizing, a business meeting was held and this entry was made in the minutes. "On motion it was decided to call a pastor, and on taking vote, Elder J. S. Mason was elected." This was the beginning of a church which has served this community for seventy years.

"Redlands"

Submitted by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis

Location: 2 miles northwest of Bedford, Virginia, on Route 43; thence 2/10 mile east on Route 644. House about 30 yards south of road.

Date: 1801.

Owners: James Watts 1801
James Watts, Jr. 1874 (?)
Col. James Watts (nephew of James, Jr.) 1904
L. Long 1905
S. H. Saunders 1905

Description: Ten yards from the manor is the brick one story gabled roofed smoke house which is well preserved. There is also a two storied square logged store house. In the yard are a few very old oaks and locusts; one oak had over 500 rings. In the basement the first Mrs. Watts had her weaving room; the huge square hand hewed joists still hold firmly the square hand made iron nails for this [sic] joists served as the upper beam of her loom.

Historical Significance:

Capt. James Watts builder of "Redlands" fought as a soldier in the war of 1812. His three grandsons fought in the War Between the States.

James Winston Watts as a Colonel.

John Harvey Watts as a soldier.

Richard Thomas Watts as a soldier.

At the time of Hunter's Raid the widow Watts was at her neighbors and learning of the army's approach she left on horseback urging the horse to his limit, but upon arrival found soldiers emptying feather mattresses and stuffing them with meat and stealing her silverware. Tho' her negroes learned at this time of their freedom, most of them stayed on at the plantation. After the war the three brothers, James Winston, John and Richard Thomas went to Georgia to see if conditions were better but returned to take up business in Lynchburg.

The Case of Parentheses vs Square Brackets

Consistency will be our name (we hope). In proofreading this issue of The Southside Virginian it was discovered that our use of parentheses () and brackets [] was not consistent; nor was the intended interpretation of blank spaces or illegible words/letters in transcribed material necessarily clear.

Since it is important to know exactly what words the original document uses; it is necessary to be precise about the nature of an uncertain transcription. It is often helpful to know whether to seek out the original document to clarify a word or name, based on one's own experience and knowledge of a given family. When a word has been left out the reader would like to know whether the space was left blank; whether a word was marked through; whether it was illegible; whether it was both marked through and illegible; or whether only a letter is illegible. It is also important to know, based on the transcriber's expertise, what is believed to be the intention of the author of the document.

In the future these editorial comments will be more explicit and will consistently be embraced with square brackets when a transcription of an original document is made. Parentheses will be used to denote comments inserted in abstracted and authored material.

When articles are submitted by our contributors for publication, these rules should be followed. Wherever parentheses with a blank are used by our contributors, we will print them as found in the article, Ed.

COMMENTARY

The Works Progress Administration Historical Inventory as a Research Tool

by Virginia Lee Hutcheson Davis
Research Editor

The Works Progress Administration was one of the agencies conceived during the administration of President Franklin Roosevelt to provide socially useful work. It was created in 1935 and headed by Harry L. Hopkins, who had been head of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration since 1933. This new agency was to co-operate with state and local governments which shared both the cost and administration of the work relief program.¹ While there were many aspects of the program, one of the lasting contributions has been the Historical Inventory of the counties of the Commonwealth of Virginia.

This inventory consisted of interviews with residents of the counties, descriptions of the old homes and churches, anecdotal accounts of these people and places, cemetery identifications and gravestone inscriptions. Descriptions were given of antiques found in the homes of many of the county residents, and in some cases the residents brought out copies of old wills, deeds and land grants, as well as letters written during the Civil War. In other cases the workers found documents in the records of the courthouses that they thought worthy of special note. A number of family genealogies were recorded.

Where old houses were described in narrative form a fact sheet was also attached so that uniform information could be included about the construction of each of the old houses. The categories of information covered in the narrative, concerning the houses included: Subject, Location, Date, Owners, Description, Historical Significance, Art and Sources of Information. Much the same information was gathered about the old churches.

The counties of Virginia apparently were surveyed during the years 1936 and 1937, and there were several persons employed to conduct the research in each county. These people did not necessarily have any research or interview skills. They very likely did not have any background in art, architecture, history or the social sciences. They wrote what they saw and what they were told.

While much information has come to light in the fifty some years since that time that offers more accurate genealogical information, these people performed a real service in preserving the information that they gathered. The information should be used with these factors in mind. Certainly any genealogical information found should be verified for its accuracy before accepting it as factual.

Where the court records of some of the counties have been destroyed, the names of owners of these old homes may be the first clue found as to their residence in that county. While the cemetery records may not be complete, the gravestone inscriptions can be used as a starting point for further research.

Many of the old houses described in the inventory are no longer standing. It is exciting to find a description, not only of the house, but its location. In a number of cases it is noted that a family burying ground was located on the property and this can still be identified. Where "Photograph" is entered under "Art" it is likely that a photograph still exists in the picture collection at the Virginia State Library. Such a photograph can be secured, either as a photographic copy or a xerox copy, depending upon the monetary investment one wishes to make. It is necessary to give the complete reference when requesting a picture (Virginia State Library, Picture Collection, 12th Street at Capitol Square, Richmond, VA 23219), and ask for a price list.

The WPA Historical Inventory Series is in printed form in some libraries and the microfilm can also be obtained through Interlibrary Loan through the Virginia State Library. The microfilm series is Film #509 and the reels are presented by counties, in alphabetical order. The specific county desired should be designated.

There is not complete consistency as to the subject matter covered by the researchers in each county, and not all of the counties are included, so one should not expect miracles. It should be emphasized that the material included is written on an elementary level and needs to be rechecked for accuracy. It just may provide the light at the end of the tunnel in some of the counties where the records are burned or incomplete; besides the inventories are fun to read!

Sturdivant Family — Additional Information

Contributed by Claiborne T. Smith, Jr.

A lengthy study of the Sturdivant family of Southside Virginia appeared in several installments in this magazine in Vol. V No. 3, and Vol. VI Nos. 1-3. Mr. Gary Williams, Clerk of Sussex County, kindly called my attention to several court suits recently located in the loose court papers of that county which further clarify and correct two lines discussed in the article.

On page 81, Vol. VI of The Southside Virginian the family of Thomas⁴ Sturdivant (Henry³, Mathew², John¹) is discussed. There is still no record of the death of this Thomas. However, he had died by 1798, when his surviving children brought suit against the estate of their brother Henry who had recently d.s.p. (died without issue) intestate. These heirs were: Benjamin Sturdivant; Ann, the wife of Richard Wilborne; Rebecca Sturdivant; Dolly Sturdivant; Polly Sturdivant and Washington Sturdivant. The last three named were underaged and represented by their guardian Stith Parham. * As mentioned in the Sturdivant article on the page cited above, the births of Henry and his three oldest siblings appear in the Albermarle Parish Register. Further information on the children of Thomas is found in a Sussex County deed dated 11 June, 1822,^b in which Benjamin Sturdivant; Wilkins Whitfield and wife Polly; Peterson Wynne and wife Dolly; Nancy Wilborne and Rebecca Sturdivant sold to Peterson Wynne 125 acres in Sussex Co. The title was not recited but the land probably was in the estate of their father Thomas. It will be noted that Richard Wilborne, husband of Nancy Sturdivant had died by 1822 and two other daughters of Thomas had married.

The following bonds pertinent to the children of Thomas and Anne Sturdivant appear in the Marriages of Sussex Co. Va. 1754-1810 by Catherine L. Knorr (1952).

Wilkins Whitfield and Polly Sturdivant 23 Dec. 1801

Peterson Wynne and Dolly Sturdivant 7 May 1800

The parentage of Peterson Wynne is not known. The division of his estate among his widow, not named, and nine heirs, as appears in the Dinwiddie

Co., Va. Surveyors Platt Book 1755-1865 is listed in Dinwiddie Data, p. 47 by Thomas P. Hughes, Jr. (1975). He is the right age to have been the husband of Dolly Sturdivant, above, and it will be noted one of the sons in the division was Henry S. Wynne.

Richard Wilborne, the husband of Betsy Sturdivant above, had died intestate in Sussex by 1802 as his inventory was filed on 15 April of that year. ^c In 1804 Benjamin Sturdivant, as next friend of: Benjamin Sturdivant Wilborne, Nancy Washington Wilborne, Betsey Claiborne Wilborne, and Rebecca Thweatt Wilborne, orphans of Richard Wilborne, brought suit against their mother Nancy as administratrix of their father's estate. ^d Anne Wilborne is probably the person of that name and age who appears in the 1850 U.S. census for Scott Co., Va.

In the earlier Sturdivant article, p. 81 Vol. VI, it is stated that the name of Anne, the wife of Thomas⁴ Sturdivant (Henry³, Mathew², John¹) was not known. She has now been identified as the daughter of John Stevens and Anne Washington of Sussex Co. On 21 Jan. 1768 John Stevens, for love and affection, deeded property to his daughter Anne Sturdivant. ^e Anne, the wife of John Stevens, was the daughter of Richard and Elizabeth (Jordan) Washington of Surry Co., Virginia. She is listed as unmarried in the wills of both parents but married to Stevens at the final division of her mother's estate late in 1735. ^f It will be noted that Thomas and Anne (Stevens) Sturdivant had a son named Washington and a grand-daughter Nancy Washington Wilborne. For the Washington family sketch which indicates the marriage of Anne Washington and John Stevens, see Historical Southern Families Vol IV, John B. Boddie (1960), p. 14.

The identity of John Sturdivant who died intestate in Sussex in 1796 and not placed in the Sturdivant article referred to above, is clarified by a 1797 Sussex Co. suit. ^g In March 1796, the Sussex court ordered that the dower of Selah Sturdivant be laid out of the land of John Sturdivant, dec^d and the remainder of the land be sold. The court further ordered that the proceeds be divided equally among the legatees. The order could not be fulfilled, as of the ten heirs, only three gave bond. It may be that several of the heirs lived elsewhere or did not have the necessary funds to put up bond. Each heir was due thirty pounds. The three that gave bond and received their share as a matter of court record, were Lewis and Hamlin Sturdivant and James Knight. The marriage bond of James Knight and Betsy Sturdivant was dated Sussex 3 Jan. 1793 with Mathew Sturdivant surety.^b The land of John Sturdivant as sold by court order was purchased by one Thomas Sturdivant June 1, 1797.ⁱ Court records show that John Sturdivant, Jr. was administrator of his father's estate. The suit above identifies John Sturdivant d. 1796 as the John who married Martha, surname unknown who had issue below as listed in the Albermarle Parish Register. This family group could not be placed when the Sturdivant study was published and is not mentioned therein. It may be significant that members of the Wynne family usually stood as godparents to Martha's children in the parish register. The suit above also proves John Sturdivant was married twice. Martha had died by 1781 as John's marriage bond to Selah Hobbs was dated in Sussex Co. 13 Oct. of that year. Selah survived her husband by several years and died testate in Sussex, will dated 18 Dec. 1803, recorded 3 Jan. 1804.^j She left four children.

Issue of John Sturdivant and his first wife Martha
(according to the Albermarle Parish Register)

1. Betsy — b. 9-13-1769; m. James Knight (see above)
2. William — b. 5-12-1770
3. John — b. 3-6-1772
4. Hamlin — b. 11-11-1773
5. Lewis — b. 5-23-1775

Issue of John Sturdivant and Selah Hobbs
(according to her will)

6. Pamela
7. Polly
8. Pleasant
9. Henry

As the court record mentioned ten heirs, it would appear there was a child by the first marriage that is unaccounted for. No attempt has been made to trace the children listed above.

In the Sturdivant article, The Southside Virginian Vol. VI, p. 80, it was theorized that John, died 1796, was the son of Henry³ (Mathew², John¹). In light of the 1797 suit above, it now appears more probable that he was the son of Hallom⁴ (Hallom³, Mathew², John¹);^k and had remained in Sussex Co. when his father moved to Wake Co, NC. Three of the children of this Hallom married into the Hobbs family in Sussex Co. but their relationship to Selah, the second wife of John, died 1796, has not been worked out.

St. John's Church (1755) — Suffolk

St. John's Church in the Chucatuck area of Suffolk boasts one of the oldest active parishes in America, dating as early as 1643. The present building was constructed in 1755 and is still in active use. This church thrived in an area of early Puritan concentration, enhanced by visits from such luminaries as George Fox, founder of the Society of Friends. The building design is a simple quadrangle with high-pitched gables and round-arched windows. Located off Route 10 on Route 125, King's Highway, Chuckatuck area, Suffolk.
